Case Summary

On March 27, 2011, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) filed this complaint on behalf of her son, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) with the CCRB via the Call Processing System. § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) was not present for this incident. At 3:45PM on March 25, 2011, officers from the 43rd Precinct conducted a theft of services operation on the BX22 bus line in the Bronx. The officers made a series of arrests at the intersection of Castle Hill Avenue and Westchester Avenue. The following allegations resulted from the officers' actions:

- Allegation A) Force: Officer Patrick Socorro used physical force against § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b)
- Allegation B) Force: Sergeant Carlos Fabara used physical force against § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b), § 87(2)(g)

- Allegation C) Discourtesy: Officer Patrick Curran spoke obscenely towards § 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b), § 87(2)(g)

- § 87(2)(g), § 87(4-b)

On April 8, 2011, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) decided that she and § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) were going to mediate their complaint. On June 15, 2011, however, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) contacted the CCRB and stated that she wanted her complaint to be investigated instead.

Results of Investigation

Civilian Statement

Victim: § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b)

- At the time of incident, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) was § 87(2)(b) old. § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) is a Hispanic male who is 5'10" tall and weighs 164 pounds. § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) has black hair and dark brown eyes. At the time of the incident, § 87(2)(b)

CCRB Statement

On May 18, 2011, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) was interviewed at § 87(2)(b) in the Bronx (C4-C22). § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b)'s statement is summarized below.

Shortly after 3:00PM on March 25, 2011, § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) and a group of approximately six friends with whom he attends school but for whom he did not have contact information boarded a BX22 bus at the intersection of Castle Hill Avenue and Pelham Parkway in the Bronx. All of them, with the exception of § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b)'s friend § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) did not know his last name) entered the bus via the front door and paid the proper fare. Once on the bus, they sat in the group of seats that was closest to the rear door. § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) stood up in front of them. The bus was not very crowded, but there were not many seats left and a few people were standing up.

When the bus stopped at the intersection of Castle Hill Avenue and Westchester Avenue, a number of people boarded the bus and many of them did so via the backdoor and did not pay the proper fare. PO1, a 5'10" tall Hispanic male with a skinny and bald head who was identified via the investigation as Officer Patrick Socorro of the 43rd Precinct, also boarded the bus at this time. As the bus approached the next stop, § 87(2)(b) noticed that a number of uniformed police officers were standing near the bus stop. Once the bus stopped, Officer Socorro told § 87(2)(b) to get off of the bus. Officer Socorro then approached another of § 87(2)(b)'s friends, § 87(2)(b) and told her to leave the bus. § 87(2)(b) did not know § 87(2)(b) last name. At the time, § 87(2)(b) did not know that Officer Socorro was a police officer because he did not verbally identify himself as such, did not have any visible indicia of being a police officer, and did not present anyone with any form of identification. § 87(2)(b) told § 87(2)(b) that she did not have to go anywhere. Officer Socorro again told § 87(2)(b) to leave the bus. § 87(2)(b) told § 87(2)(b) not to move because she had not done anything wrong. At that time, Officer Socorro stated to § 87(2)(b) "Don't worry. You're next." § 87(2)(b) remained seated where she was and Officer Socorro told an unknown number of other individuals to exit the bus. After doing so, Officer Socorro turned his attention back to § 87(2)(b) and told him to get off of the bus twice. § 87(2)(b) refused to do so both times. When § 87(2)(b) refused Officer Socorro's third directive to exit the bus, Officer Socorro used one of his hands to grab § 87(2)(b)'s right forearm. § 87(2)(b) immediately pulled his arm away from Officer Socorro. Immediately after doing so, however, PO2, a 6'0" tall well-built Asian male with spiky black hair, and black eyes, who was identified via the investigation as Sergeant Carlos Fabara of the 43rd Precinct, approached § 87(2)(b) from behind, hooked both of his arms under those of § 87(2)(b) and clasped his hands behind § 87(2)(b)'s neck. Officer Socorro then grabbed § 87(2)(b)'s right forearm. Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara walked § 87(2)(b) to the back door. § 87(2)(b) did not resist as the officers did so, and noted that he allowed them to lead him towards the back door. Officer Socorro stated to § 87(2)(b) "Come on kid. Let's not get beat up." Once they reached the top step, Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara relinquished contact with § 87(2)(b). At that time, § 87(2)(b) felt what he described as a "force" against his upper back, which caused him to stumble forward and off of the bus. Once he was off of the bus, § 87(2)(b) was handcuffed by two unidentified uniformed officers who had no difficulty doing so. § 87(2)(b) was then told to sit on the curb next to § 87(2)(b) and three other people who had been arrested. § 87(2)(b) did not sustain any injuries and did not seek medical attention.

§ 87(2)(b) and his friend § 87(2)(b) were led to a nearby marked police van. § 87(2)(b) was placed in the row immediately behind the driver, a 5'10" tall white male in uniform who was identified via the investigation as Officer Patrick Curran of the 43rd Precinct and the passenger, a white male who was in uniform and who was identified via the investigation as Officer John Vitale of the 43rd Precinct. There were no additional officers in the van. § 87(2)(b) was placed in the row immediately behind § 87(2)(b). When the officers who placed § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) into the van returned to the curb to get the other people who were arrested, § 87(2)(b) began to pray. § 87(2)(b) turned around in his seat and asked § 87(2)(b) why he was praying. At that time Officer Curran stated to § 87(2)(b) "Shut the fuck up." § 87(2)(b) did not make any more comments. The other individuals were placed into the van and all five were escorted to the 43rd Precinct. § 87(2)(b) was held at the precinct for several hours before being released into the custody of his mother, § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) was not charged with anything.

Photo Array

After providing his official statement, § 87(2)(b) viewed a series of single photos which consisted of ten male police officers, four of whom were identified via the arrest reports from this incident as being a part of this operation (enc. C7-C20). § 87(2)(b) identified the officer in position number 4, Officer Vitale, as the officer who was sitting in the front passenger seat in the van that transported him to the precinct. § 87(2)(b) identified the officer in position 6, Officer Socorro, as the officer who approached him on the bus and grabbed his arm. § 87(2)(b) speculated that the officer in position 9 grabbed him from behind, but that officer was a filler and is not assigned to the 43rd Precinct. Lastly, § 87(2)(b) identified the officer in photo 10, Officer Curran, as the driver of the van that transported him to the precinct and the officer who used profanity towards him.

Attempts to Contact Civilians

§ 87(2)(b) stated that his friend § 87(2)(b) was in the van with him when the discourtesy allegedly occurred. § 87(2)(b) however, was unable to provide a last name or any contact information for § 87(2)(b). As per the 43rd Precinct's Command Log, none of the individuals arrested at the time of this incident were named § 87(2)(b) (enc. E20-E32). Aside from § 87(2)(b) there were two juveniles arrested at the time of this incident, § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b). The Command Log listed partial addresses for both § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) and also noted the names of the relatives into whose custody they were released. Both § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) were released into the custody of their mothers.

A search for § 87(2)(b) and his mother using 411.com, the Bronx COLE directory, and the Lexis Nexis database failed to provide a complete address or possible phone numbers for them. The searches did show, however, that they live in a heavily populated apartment building. A search of the location using the NYCgovMap showed that the building is part of a NYCHA complex and contains 583 apartments. Because the CCRB was unable to obtain a complete address for § 87(2)(b) or narrow down which, if any, of the apartments in this building § 87(2)(b) lives in, the CCRB was unable to contact § 87(2)(b).

Searches of 411.com, the Bronx COLE directory, and the Lexis Nexis database were negative for § 87(2)(b) and his mother. Moreover, the Bronx COLE directory does not list § 87(2)(b)'s address and as per 411.com and the Lexis Nexis database, the listed address for § 87(2)(b) does not exist. As such, the CCRB was unable to contact § 87(2)(b) via his listed address.

NYPD Statements

Overview

From their statements to the CCRB, the investigation determined that on March 25, 2011, Sergeant Carlos Fabara, Officer Patrick Socorro, Officer Patrick Curran, and Officer John Vitale were conducting a theft of services operation on the BX22 bus line, which is notorious for passengers entering the rear of the bus without paying. The operation was separated into two hour blocks, and during each block, Sergeant Fabara and Officer Socorro entered numerous buses via the rear door and took note of those who did not pay. Sergeant Fabara and Officer Socorro then allowed the individuals two or three stops during which they had the opportunity to go to the front of the bus and pay. The persons who did not pay were eventually removed from the buses and arrested for theft of services. The arrested individuals were then transported to the 43rd Precinct by Officers Curran and Vitale.

Subject Officer: OFFICER PATRICK SOCORRO (43rd Precinct)

- At the time of the incident, Officer Patrick Socorro was § 87(2)(b)
- On March 25, 2011, Officer Socorro worked from 1:00PM to 9:35PM. Officer Socorro was dressed in plainclothes. At the time of the incident, Officer Socorro and his partner, Sergeant

Carlos Fabara, were on foot. Their partners, Officer John Vitale and Officer Patrick Curran, were in a marked police van.

Memo Book

Officer Socorro had two memo book entries regarding this incident (enc. D1-D4). At 3:30PM, Officer Socorro observed five individuals enter the rear of NYC bus 5326, which runs on the BX22 bus line. The individuals did not attempt to pay. At 3:44PM, five people were placed under arrest in regards.

CCRB Statement

On July 7, 2012, Officer Socorro was interviewed twice at the CCRB (enc. D5-D6 and D7-D8). During his first interview, Officer Socorro did not recall any details of this incident. Twelve minutes after concluding his first interview, however, Officer Socorro asked to be interviewed again because after having time to think about it he believed he remembered vague details about the incident. Officer Socorro's statements are summarized below.

During the theft of services operation there was a juvenile, identified via the investigation as § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) who was arrested for disorderly conduct. After the bus was stopped, Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara removed the arrested individuals from the bus. § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) became disorderly when he realized that his friends were also being arrested. § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) was very loud and got very close to the officers. Officer Socorro did not recall what exactly § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) was saying, but he was disruptive. Moreover, the bus was crowded and there were only two officers on the bus. Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara had no way of knowing whether § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b)'s behavior would incite someone else on the bus to become involved in the incident or to lash out at the officers. Although Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara attempted to make their arrests as soon as possible, they did worry that there could be a problem. Officer Socorro explained to § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) that they were not after him and did not suspect him of theft of service, but he was becoming disorderly and creating a hazardous situation on the bus. Officer Socorro then told § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) that they were going to arrest him for disorderly conduct and contact his parents in regards. Officer Socorro also noted that they had to take § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) in because he was underage, did not have identification, and therefore, could not be released with a summons.

When Officer Socorro told § 87(2)(b) that they had to arrest him, § 87(2)(b) refused to exit the bus. § 87(2)(b) grabbed onto a pole and refused to let go, despite numerous orders to release the pole and exit the bus. Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara grabbed § 87(2)(b) and pulled him off of the pole. Officer Socorro did not recall where or how they grabbed § 87(2)(b). Once they managed to remove § 87(2)(b) from the pole, they had to pull him off of the bus. Neither officer, however, pushed § 87(2)(b) off of the bus. At no time did Officer Socorro threaten § 87(2)(b) with the use of force. § 87(2)(b) was near the rear of the bus, so he was removed via the rear door. Once § 87(2)(b) was outside of the bus, he willingly placed his hands behind his back and submitted to being handcuffed. § 87(2)(b) was removed to the stationhouse and his parents were called. By this time, § 87(2)(b) had calmed down considerably. Officer Socorro explained the situation to § 87(2)(b)'s parents and released § 87(2)(b) to his parents without issuing him a summons or processing his arrest.

Subject Officer: SERGEANT CARLOS FABARA (43rd Precinct)

- At the time of this incident, Sergeant Fabara was § 87(2)(b)
- On March 25, 2011, Sergeant Fabara worked from 12:50PM to 9:47PM. Sergeant Fabara and his partner, Officer Patrick Socorro, were dressed in plain clothes.

Memo Book

Sergeant Fabara did not have his memo book at the time of his CCRB interview and was unsure of the nature of his memo book entries from the date of incident. Sergeant Fabara agreed to fax his memo book to the investigator, but to date, Sergeant Fabara has not faxed or otherwise forwarded his memo book to the CCRB. An additional request for Sergeant Fabara's memo book was made via the IAB liaison, but the IAB liaison was unable to furnish Sergeant Fabara's memo book.

CCRB Statement

On July 14, 2011, Sergeant Carlos Fabara was interviewed at the CCRB (enc. D9-D10). Sergeant Fabara's statement is summarized below.

Sergeant Fabara had a vague recollection of this incident. Sergeant Fabara did not recall anyone acting disorderly or being arrested for disorderly conduct. Sergeant Fabara did, however, recall an individual who refused to get off of the bus when he was being placed under arrest. Sergeant Fabara and Officer Socorro repeatedly ordered the individual to get off of the bus, but he refused to do so. Sergeant Fabara believed that this individual was a juvenile, but was unsure. The investigator showed Sergeant Fabara a photo of § 87(2)(b) but he did not recognize him.

The individual was handcuffed while still on the bus. Sergeant Fabara did not recall if there was a problem when he and/or Officer Socorro attempted to handcuff the individual and did not recall whether force was used to apprehend him. Sergeant Fabara did not recall hearing Officer Socorro threaten any civilian with the use of force.

Subject Officer: OFFICER PATRICK CURRAN (43rd Precinct)

- Officer Patrick Curran was § 87(2)(b)
- On March 25, 2011, Officer Curran worked from 1:00PM to 9:35PM. Officer Curran and his partner, Officer John Vitale, were dressed in uniform and were assigned to a marked police van, RMP number 8658. Officer Curran was the operator and Officer Vitale was the recorder.

Memo Book

Officer Curran had memo book entries in which he detailed the logistics of the operation and documented each of the arrests that were assigned to him (enc. D11-D13).

CCRB Statement

On July 21, 2011, Officer Curran was interviewed at the CCRB (enc. D14-D15). Officer Curran's statement is summarized below.

Officer Curran did not witness any of the arrests that occurred during this set. After persons were arrested, they were placed inside of the van with Officer Curran and Officer Vitale. There were no additional officers inside of the van. Many of the arrested individuals protested their arrests and a few of them were notably loud. Officer Curran repeatedly told the arrested individuals to be quiet and relax, and noted that they were not facing serious charges. Officer Curran did not recall if anyone in the van prayed or made religious references. Officer Curran did not otherwise respond, or say anything to, any of the arrested individuals. Officer Curran did not use profanity for any reason towards any of the individuals he transported to the precinct. Officer Curran noted that it would not have been prudent to do so because his goal was to keep them as calm as possible and not cause their anger to escalate. Officer Curran did not hear Officer Vitale use profanity towards anyone in the van. Officer Curran viewed a photo of § 87(2)(b) but he did not recognize him.

- Officer John Vitale was § 87(2)(b).
- On March 25, 2011, Officer Vitale worked from 1:00PM to 9:35PM. Officer Vitale and his partner, Officer Patrick Curran, were dressed in uniform and were assigned to marked van, RMP number 5868. Officer Curran was the operator and Officer Vitale was the recorder.

Memo Book

Officer Vitale had one memo book entry regarding this incident, in which he noted that at 3:44PM, two people were placed under arrest on the BX22 bus for theft of services (enc. D16-D18).

CCRB Statement

On July 21, 2011, Officer John Vitale was interviewed at the CCRB (enc. D19-D20). Officer Vitale's statement is summarized below.

At 3:44PM, Officer Vitale was assigned two arrests. Both of the arrested individuals were adults; there were no juveniles assigned to Officer Vitale. Officer Vitale did not witness what occurred during the arrests. Officer Vitale viewed a photo of § 87(2)(b) but he did not recognize him.

Officer Vitale and Officer Curran transported the arrested individuals to the 43rd Precinct. None of the arrested individuals had a demeanor that stood out to Officer Vitale. The arrested individuals were unhappy that they were arrested and were very vocal about their objections because they did not believe that entering "jumping" the back of a bus was a crime. The arrested individuals used profanity while voicing their objections, but they did not say anything that Officer Vitale recalled as being particularly problematic or troublesome. Officer Vitale did not recall if anyone prayed or made any reference to God or religion. Neither Officer Vitale nor Officer Curran responded to what any of the arrested individuals stated. At no time did Officer Vitale use profanity towards anyone in the van. Officer Vitale did not recall if Officer Curran used profanity towards anyone in the van.

Status of Civil Proceedings

- On June 27, 2012, § 87(2)(b) filed a Notice of Claim with the City of New York on behalf of § 87(2)(b) (enc. F1-F7). The incident date listed in the Notice of Claim, however, is March 26, 2011 and the bus line is identified as the BQ22. Moreover, § 87(2)(b) does not make a threat of force allegation or a discourtesy allegation. § 87(2)(b) stated that the officers pushed § 87(2)(b) off of the bus causing his head to hit the door and him to fall to the ground. § 87(2)(b) also alleged that § 87(2)(b) suffered injuries to his head and neck, as well as spinal trauma. § 87(2)(b) is requesting $10 million as redress.

Civilian Criminal History

- Because § 87(2)(b) is a minor, any possible criminal conviction history that he may have is unavailable to the CCRB.
- As of July 16, 2012, Office of Court Administration records reveal no criminal convictions for § 87(2)(b).

Civilian CCRB History

- This is the first and only CCRB complaint for § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) (enc. B7 and B8).

Subject Officer CCRB History

- The CCRB has not substantiated any allegations against Officers Socorro and Curran in their four years of service to the NYPD (enc. B1 and B6).
- The CCRB has substantiated ten allegations against Sergeant Fabara in his thirteen years of service to the NYPD (enc. B2-B5):
  - 200508693: Premises entered and searched (No Disciplinary Action)
  - 200508693: Detention (No Disciplinary Action)
  - 200508693: Frisk (No Disciplinary Action)
  - 200508693: Refusal to provide name/shield number (Instructions)
  - 200511684: Questioned and/or Stopped (No Disciplinary Action)
  - 200511684: Frisk (No Disciplinary Action)
  - 200512992: Questioned and/or stopped (Command Discipline – A)
  - 200512992: Frisk (Command Discipline – A)
  - 200606723: Refusal to provide name/shield number (Command Discipline – A)
  - 200606723: Frisk (No Disciplinary Action)

Conclusion

Identification of Subject Officers

- § 87(2)(b) provided a description of Officer Socorro and identified him in a photo. Officer Socorro fits the description provided by § 87(2)(b) and Officer Socorro acknowledged being involved in § 87(2)(b)'s apprehension. Therefore, a physical force allegation and threat of arrest allegation are pleaded against Officer Socorro.
- § 87(2)(b) described the second officer who used force against him as a 6'0" tall well-built Asian male with spiky black hair, and black eyes. Sergeant Fabara is a Hispanic male, but otherwise fits the description provided by § 87(2)(b). Additionally, as per Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara, they were the only two officers on the bus at the time of this incident. Therefore, a physical force allegation is pleaded against Sergeant Fabara.
- § 87(2)(b) identified Officer Curran from a photo as the officer who used profanity towards him and stated that Officer Curran was the driver of the van that transported him to the 43rd Precinct stationhouse. Officer Curran confirmed that he was the driver of the van. Therefore, a discourtesy allegation is pleaded against Officer Curran.

Investigative Findings and Recommendations

- Allegation A) Force: Officer Patrick Socorro used physical force against § 87(2)(b)
- Allegation B) Force: Sergeant Carlos Fabara used physical force against § 87(2)(b)

It is undisputed that Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara used physical force to remove § 87(2)(b) from the bus.

Patrol Guide Procedure 203-11 states that an officer is allowed to use the minimum amount of force necessary to gain compliance and affect an arrest (enc. A1-A2).

§ 87(2)(b) conceded to involving himself in his friend's interaction with Officer Socorro, to not complying with Officer Socorro's directives to leave the bus, and to pulling away from Officer Socorro when Officer Socorro grabbed his arm. Officer Socorro stated that § 87(2)(b) became disorderly when he realized that his friends were being arrested and expressed a concern that § 87(2)(b)'s behavior would incite someone else to take action or to lash out at him and Sergeant Fabara, who were the only two officers on a bus full of civilians. Officer Socorro and Sergeant Fabara stated that they gave § 87(2)(b) multiple opportunities to comply with their directives to exit the bus and when § 87(2)(b) refused to do so, Officer Socorro told § 87(2)(b) that he was under arrest. As per Officer Socorro, § 87(2)(b) resisted arrest and he and Sergeant Fabara had to physically escort § 87(2)(b) off of the bus. The officers' physical contact with § 87(2)(b) ended once § 87(2)(b) was off of the bus. § 87(2)(b) did not have any injuries as a result of this incident.

§ 87(2)(b), § 87(2)(g)

- Allegation C) Discourtesy: Officer Patrick Curran spoke obscenely towards § 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b) alleged that Officer Curran told him, "Shut the fuck up." Officer Curran denied using profanity towards § 87(2)(b) or any other civilian. Officer Vitale did not recall whether Officer Curran used profanity towards § 87(2)(b) or any other civilian.

§ 87(2)(b) stated that his friend § 87(2)(b) was in the van with him when the discourtesy allegedly occurred. As stated above, however, there were no individuals named "§ 87(2)(b)" arrested at the time and the CCRB was unable to obtain complete and/or valid addresses for either of the juveniles that were arrested at the same time as § 87(2)(b). Aside from Officers Curran and Vitale, there were no additional officers in the van. § 87(2)(b), § 87(2)(g)

- § 87(2)(g), § 87(4-b)
