Dear Counsel:

The People disclose the following evidence and information, including that which is known to police or other law enforcement agencies acting on the government's behalf in the case, that tends to: (i.) negate the defendant's guilt as to a charged offense; (ii.) reduce the degree of or mitigate the defendant's culpability as to a charged offense; (iii.) support a potential defense to a charged offense; (iv.) impeach the credibility of a testifying prosecution witness; (v.) undermine evidence of the defendant's identity as a perpetrator of a charged offense; (vi.) provide a basis for a motion to suppress evidence; or (vii.) mitigate punishment. Information under this paragraph is being disclosed even if it was not recorded in tangible form and irrespective of whether the People credit the information.¹ See CPL § 245.20(1)(k).

PO PEDLY JEANPIERRE:

With respect to the above-captioned matter, and pursuant to the Court of Appeals decision in People v. Garrett, 23 N.Y.3d 878 (2014), the following list provides case names and docket numbers related to civil cases in which The People's expected witnesses have been previously named in their capacity as members of the New York City Police Department.

¹ The People will disclose the information expeditiously upon its receipt and shall not delay disclosure if it is obtained earlier than the time period for disclosure in CPL § 245.10(1).
