Case Summary

On June 15, 2020, § 87(2)(b) filed this complaint with the CCRB via telephone.

At the time of the incident, § 87(2)(b) and her brother § 87(2)(b) had an open case with Detective Christopher Martin of the 71st Precinct Detective Squad about § 87(2)(b)'s biological mother, who was threatening them and menaced them with a firearm.

On June 15, 2020, at 10:25a.m. § 87(2)(b) called the 71st Precinct Detective Squad to ask about the status of the case and spoke to Detective Martin. Detective Martin told her the police were too busy with the ongoing protests against police brutality and did not have time for her case. He then hung up the phone. § 87(2)(b) called back, and Detective Martin allegedly told her, "I don't give a fuck about your case, stop calling" and hung up the phone again (Allegation A: Discourtesy, § 87(2)(g)). § 87(2)(b) did not have any further interaction with Detective Martin.

The investigation did not obtain any video footage of the incident, including body-worn camera (BWC) footage. Detective Martin was not equipped with BWC at the time of incident.

Findings and Recommendations

Allegation (A) Discourtesy: Detective Christopher Martin spoke discourteously to § 87(2)(b).

It is undisputed that on June 15, at around 10:25a.m., § 87(2)(b) called the 71st Precinct Detective Squad to ask for an update on her case. § 87(2)(b) asked for Detective Martin and was transferred to him.

§ 87(2)(b) stated that when she asked Detective Martin why the suspect involved in her case was not yet in custody, Detective Martin told her there was too much going on and that police officers were more concerned with the "George Floyd situation" than with § 87(2)(b)'s case (Board Review 01). He then hung up the phone. § 87(2)(b) immediately called him back. Detective Martin then told her, "I don't give a fuck about your case, stop calling." § 87(2)(b) did not have a chance to respond before Detective Martin hung up the phone again.

Detective Martin did not specifically recall the incident but stated he had taken multiple calls from § 87(2)(b) about her case (Board Review 02). He explained to her that the case was ongoing and that the Warrant Squad was searching for the suspect. Detective Martin was not aware of discussing anything else when § 87(2)(b) called him. He did not discuss the ongoing protests against police brutality with § 87(2)(b) nor did he tell her he was too busy with them and hang up the phone. Detective Martin denied saying, "I don't give a fuck about your case, stop calling." Detective Martin denied using any profanity while on the phone with § 87(2)(b).
