Synopsis

§ 87(2)(b) called the CCRB on May 15, 2006, to complain that on May 14, 2006, at approximately 12:30pm, between five and six uniformed officers entered her home located at § 87(2)(b) in Brooklyn. § 87(2)(b) alleged that several officers entered the first floor of her home and several entered the second floor of her home. PO Darryl Chen and an unidentified female had their guns drawn when they entered § 87(2)(b)'s home. § 87(2)(b) and her § 87(2)(b) old son, § 87(2)(b) were upstairs when the officers entered. § 87(2)(b) heard the officers and went downstairs. The officers asked § 87(2)(b) who he was home with and he told them that he was home with his mother. § 87(2)(b) went downstairs and spoke to the officers. The officers told § 87(2)(b) that her son had just pulled a gun on the owner of a bodega. § 87(2)(b) later learned that the police had responded to a report of a man with a gun at a bodega on the corner and that the owner of the bodega had indicated that § 87(2)(b)'s son was the man who had pulled the gun. § 87(2)(b)'s older son had left her home to get § 87(2)(b) a mother's day card and he had left the front door to her home open. § 87(2)(b) read PO Chen's name off of his shield when she later spoke to him at the 77th Precinct and he acknowledged his role in the incident in question.

The investigator spoke to § 87(2)(b) on May 18, 2006. She stated that she was not sure whether she wanted to come to the CCRB to provide a statement. She promised to call later on with a decision. The investigator placed a second call on May 31, 2006, and § 87(2)(b) scheduled an interview date for June 5, 2006. § 87(2)(b) missed her appointment and did not respond to the letters sent to her on June 6, 2006, and June 15, 2006. Neither of these letters has been returned to the agency. § 87(2)(b) also did not respond to the messages left for her at home and at work on June 7, 2006, June 15, 2006, and June 21, 2006. § 87(2)(g)
