DISCLOSURE ADVISORY

For the person named above, whom the People may call as a witness, please be advised as follows.

1. The New York City Police Department (NYPD) has deemed substantiated an allegation that Detective Fehrenbach failed to sign out end of tour on October 30, 2013 and provided inaccurate statements to a supervisor on that date. The allegation arose out of a situation on October 30, 2013 when he failed to sign out of his unit's command log at the end of his tour of duty. The command log was in the vicinity of an officer who was waiting to give Reiner Fehrenbach written notice that his request for excusal the next day had been denied. Fehrenbach did not sign out nor inform his direct supervisor that he was going end of tour. Moments later, a sergeant asked the Detective directly whether he had signed out, and he made the false statement that he had. The sergeant informed him orally that his request for an excusal the next day had been denied. The sergeant then examined the command log and verified that Detective Fehrenbach's statement was false. A hearing about this matter was held on November 6, 2014 at which Detective Fehrenbach falsely stated under oath that he had not been asked whether he had signed out. Ultimately Fehrenbach pleaded guilty to both allegations and forfeited 15 vacation days.
2. Reiner Fehrenbach was a named defendant in the civil action, Jose Lasanta v. the City of New York, et al., 301004/2013 filed in the New York State Supreme Court in Bronx County involving an incident on October 21, 2010.
