Case Summary

On September 9, 2019, § 87(2)(b) appeared at the CCRB as a walk-in complainant and filed the following complaint in-person.

On August 22, 2019, at approximately 2:00 p.m., § 87(2)(b) was inside of her apartment at § 87(2)(b) in Manhattan § 87(2)(b) when, PO Lissette Guerrodoleo and PO Sahib Singh, of the 19th Precinct, came to her door. PO Guerrodoleo and PO Singh presented § 87(2)(b) with a legal document that stated that the NYPD was to accompany § 87(2)(b)'s ex-husband, § 87(2)(b) to retrieve their children's personal belongings from § 87(2)(b)'s apartment.

§ 87(2)(b) told PO Guerrodoleo and PO Singh that she spoke with her lawyer and did not need to let them into her apartment. § 87(2)(b) closed her door and PO Guerrodoleo told her that she could be arrested (Allegation A — Abuse of Authority: Threat of arrest: § 87(2)(g)). This threat was allegedly made under Sgt. Ross's supervision (Allegation B — Abuse of Authority: Threat of arrest: § 87(2)(g)).

PO Jaily Polancobalcacer and Sgt. Patrick Ross, both of the 19th Precinct, arrived at the incident location. § 87(2)(b) exited her apartment with her housekeeper, only known as § 87(2)(b) and walked toward the elevator bank. PO Polancobalcacer approached § 87(2)(b) and stopped her in the hallway (Allegation C – Abuse of Authority: Stop: § 87(2)(g)). PO Guerrodoleo and PO Singh also approached § 87(2)(b) and stopped her in the hallway under Sgt. Ross's supervision (Allegation D, Allegation E, and Allegation F – Abuse of Authority: Stop: § 87(2)(g)). PO Guerrodoleo grabbed § 87(2)(b)'s right arm and squeezed it (Allegation G – Force: Physical force: § 87(2)(g)). Allegedly, this force was used under Sgt. Ross's supervision (Allegation H – Force: Physical force: § 87(2)(g)).

Sgt. Ross told PO Guerrodoleo, PO Singh, and PO Polancobalcacer to let § 87(2)(b) go. The officers stood aside and allowed § 87(2)(b) to pass. Sgt. Ross, PO Guerrodoleo, PO Singh, and PO Polancobalcacer did not provide § 87(2)(b) with business cards (Allegation I, J, K, L – Abuse of Authority: Refusal to provide RTKA card: § 87(2)(g), § 87(2)(g), § 87(4-b)).

§ 87(2)(b)

Body-worn camera footage was obtained from PO Guerrodoleo (Board Review 08 - 10), and PO Sahib Singh (Board Review 11 - 13), both of the 19th Precinct. Footage from the first-floor lobby of § 87(2)(b) in Manhattan was also obtained. However, it did not capture any FADO allegations or the incident location (Board Review 14). The relevant footage will be discussed below.

Findings and Recommendations

Allegation A – Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Lissette Guerrodoleo threatened to arrest § 87(2)(b).

§ 87(2)(b) was interviewed at the CCRB on September 9, 2019 (Board Review 01). § 87(2)(b)'s housekeeper, § 87(2)(b) provided a phone statement to the CCRB on September 9, 2019 (Board Review 26). PO Guerrodoleo was interviewed at the CCRB on December 18, 2019 (Board Review 04). PO Singh was interviewed at the CCRB on December 20, 2019 (Board Review 05). Sgt. Ross (Board Review 06) and PO Polancobalcacer (Board Review 07) were interviewed at the CCRB on January 6, 2020.

§ 87(2)(b) stated that PO Singh and PO Guerrerodeoleo arrived at her apartment with her ex-husband, § 87(2)(b). PO Singh knocked on § 87(2)(b)'s door and spoke at the door. PO Singh asked § 87(2)(b) to let them into the apartment and handed § 87(2)(b) a family court order. The order stated that the NYPD could accompany § 87(2)(b) to obtain their daughters' belongings but did not compel § 87(2)(b) to grant anyone entry to her apartment. § 87(2)(b) sent a photograph of the order to her lawyer and handed it back to PO Singh. § 87(2)(b) told PO Singh she did not have to let them into her apartment and that she had thirty-five days to appeal the order. PO Guerrerodeoleo told § 87(2)(b) that she was committing "criminal intent."

PO Guerrerodeoleo stated that she and PO Singh met with § 87(2)(b) outside of the apartment building. § 87(2)(b) gave them a legal document that she believed was a family court order. PO Guerrerodeoleo and PO Singh went up to § 87(2)(b)'s apartment, without consulting with a supervisor, and knocked on her door. They informed § 87(2)(b) that they had a family court order to obtain her daughters' belongings. § 87(2)(b) and PO Guerrerodeoleo told her she needed to give them access or she was committing "criminal contempt." § 87(2)(b) still refused, and PO Guerrerodeoleo told § 87(2)(b) a few times that she could be arrested for her refusal to comply with the family court order.

PO Singh's statement was generally consistent with that of PO Guerrerodeoleo. However, PO Singh believed that the legal document provided by § 87(2)(b) was an order of protection. PO Singh also did not remember who told § 87(2)(b) that she could have been arrested, but that either himself or PO Guerrerodeoleo told her.

PO Polancobalcacer's statement was generally consistent with that of the other officers. However, PO Polancobalcacer did not hear any other officers tell § 87(2)(b) that she could have been arrested at any point in the interaction.

Sgt. Ross's statement was generally consistent with that of the other officers, except, Sgt. Ross did not hear any officers tell § 87(2)(b) that she was committing "criminal contempt" or that she could be arrested. Sgt. Ross did not know what § 87(2)(b)'s legal document was or whether § 87(2)(b) could have been arrested. Sgt. Ross believed that for officers to enforce a court order, it had to be signed by a judge, both parties had to be aware of it, and it had to list a time and date to be enforced. Sgt. Ross did not know whether § 87(2)(b)'s document was enforceable because it was only signed by a referee, so he called the Domestic Violence Unit to get more information. PO Guerrerodeoleo told Sgt. Ross after the incident that § 87(2)(b) could have been arrested because she thought that it was a valid court order and § 87(2)(b) committed "criminal contempt" by not cooperating.

PO Guerrerodeoleo's body-worn camera footage captured the incident in its entirety (Board Review 08). Between 00:00 and 01:05 minutes, PO Guerrerodeoleo and PO Singh speak to § 87(2)(b) at her door about her daughters' belongings. PO Singh hands § 87(2)(b) a document. § 87(2)(b) takes the document and says that based on the document, they cannot enter her apartment and she has the right to appeal. § 87(2)(b) closes her door. At 01:05 minutes, PO Guerrerodeoleo tells § 87(2)(b) that she is "committing criminal contempt" and can be arrested.

§ 87(2)(b) provided to the investigation a photograph of the legal document, that she viewed on the day of the incident (Board Review 17). The document was dated August 22, 2019, noted it was prepared “At a Term of the Family Court for the State of New York held in the County of New York,” and stated that § 87(2)(b) had thirty days of the receipt of the order to appeal. The order was signed by referee, § 87(2)(b). The document also stated that § 87(2)(b) was to be accompanied by the NYPD to § 87(2)(b)'s home to retrieve their daughters' belongings which § 87(2)(b) was to immediately turn over.

It was undisputed that PO Guerrerodeoleo informed § 87(2)(b) that she could be arrested for criminal contempt. Despite different interpretations of the legal document that § 87(2)(b) gave the officers, the document was not an order of protection, was issued by a referee and not a judge, was not issued in § 87(2)(b)'s presence, and specifically noted that § 87(2)(b) had thirty-days to appeal.

According to New York Penal Law 215.51 (Board Review 18), when an individual violates a duly served order of protection, or such order of which the individual has actual knowledge because he or she was present in court when such order was issued, or an order of protection issued by a court of competent jurisdiction in New York or in another state, territorial or tribal jurisdiction, that individual would be found in criminal contempt in the first degree.

Allegation B—Abuse of Authority: Sergeant Patrick Ross threatened to arrest § 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(g)
§ 87(2)(g)

It is undisputed that Sgt. Ross was not present at the time that PO Guerrerodeoleo threatened to arrest § 87(2)(b). Additionally, Sgt. Ross did not assign any officer to this job nor was he aware that the officers had responded to this job at the time that PO Guerrerodeoleo made this threat. § 87(2)(g)

Allegation C – Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Jaily Polancobalcacer stopped § 87(2)(b)

Allegation D – Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Lissette Guerrerodeoleo stopped § 87(2)(b)

Allegation E – Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Sahib Singh stopped § 87(2)(b)

Allegation F – Abuse of Authority: Sergeant Patrick Ross stopped § 87(2)(b)

Allegation G – Force: Police Officer Lissette Guerrerodeoleo used physical force against § 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b) stated that she exited her apartment with § 87(2)(b) approximately fifteen minutes after speaking with PO Singh and PO Guerrerodeoleo. PO Guerrerodeoleo approached § 87(2)(b) stood in front of her, and blocked her way to the elevators. § 87(2)(b) asked PO Guerrerodeoleo to move out of the way. PO Polancobalcacer stood next to PO Guerrerodeoleo and would not let § 87(2)(b) pass. PO Guerrerodeoleo told her that it was “criminal contempt” that she would not let them into her apartment. § 87(2)(b) stepped forward with her arms down at her sides. PO

Guerrerodeoleo then grabbed both of § 87(2)(b)'s arms at her wrists, pulled them up at a ninety-degree angle, and squeezed § 87(2)(b)'s wrists. PO Guerredoleo told § 87(2)(b) that she could not leave until she let the officers into her apartment. § 87(2)(b) replied that the court order did not allow them to enter her apartment. § 87(2)(b) told PO Guerredoleo that she was hurting her and to let go. PO Guerredoleo squeezed § 87(2)(b)'s wrists for approximately twelve seconds until Sgt. Ross waved his hand signaling PO Guerredoleo to let § 87(2)(b) go. PO Guerredoleo then let go of § 87(2)(b)'s wrists and allowed her to leave.

§ 87(2)(b)'s statement was generally consistent with that of § 87(2)(b) (Board Review 26).

PO Guerredoleo said while Sgt. Ross was on the phone, § 87(2)(b) exited her apartment and walked down the hallway toward the officers. PO Polancobalcacer and PO Guerredoleo approached § 87(2)(b) because she believed that § 87(2)(b) was going to be arrested. Sgt. Ross did not tell PO Guerredoleo that § 87(2)(b) could have been arrested. PO Guerredoleo explained the order to § 87(2)(b) but did not recall grabbing her or preventing her from leaving. Sgt. Ross signaled to PO Guerredoleo and PO Polancobalcacer to let § 87(2)(b) go and the officers let her pass.

PO Guerredoleo's body-worn camera footage captures the incident in its entirety (Board Review 10). At 08:56 minutes, § 87(2)(b) exits her apartment with § 87(2)(b) and walks down the hallway towards the elevators. At 09:04, PO Guerredoleo says, "Collar?" At 09:14 minutes, PO Polancobalcacer walks towards § 87(2)(b) and blocks her from walking down the hallway with his body while holding out his right arm. PO Polancobalcacer tells § 87(2)(b) that she needs to wait. PO Guerredoleo walks towards where PO Polancobalcacer and § 87(2)(b) were standing. PO Guerredoleo stands next to PO Polancobalcacer and blocks her from moving down the hallway. PO Singh joins PO Polancobalcacer and PO Guerredoleo and also blocks § 87(2)(b) from walking down the hallway. At 09:19 minutes, PO Guerredoleo grabs § 87(2)(b)'s right forearm with her left hand. § 87(2)(b) tells PO Guerredoleo to let go and that she is hurting her. Sgt. Ross then tells the officers to let § 87(2)(b) go. The officers step out of § 87(2)(b)'s way and she walks towards the elevators.

PO Singh's body-worn camera footage captures the incident in its entirety and is generally consistent with that of PO Guerredoleo (Board Review 13). At 00:22, PO Singh turns towards PO Guerredoleo who takes out her handcuffs and holds them behind her back while she and PO Singh approach § 87(2)(b) in the hallway.

PO Guerredoleo's body-worn camera footage and PO Singh's body-worn camera footage was played into the record during PO Guerredoleo's interview. When asked whether she stopped § 87(2)(b) PO Guerredoleo changed her original statement and stated that she had prevented § 87(2)(b) from moving down the hallway to place her under arrest. PO Guerredoleo also added that § 87(2)(b) was acting erratically, had objects in her hands that could harm her, and was trying to fight the officers. PO Guerredoleo then changed her statement saying it was not her intention to arrest § 87(2)(b) but to handcuff her for safety. PO Guerredoleo consistently stated that § 87(2)(b) could have been arrested for criminal contempt.

PO Singh's statement was generally consistent with that of PO Guerredoleo. However, PO Singh believed that the officers needed to wait for Sgt. Ross's approval before they could arrest § 87(2)(b) PO Polancobalcacer, PO Singh, and PO Guerredoleo spoke with § 87(2)(b) in the hallway, but PO Singh did not stop her and believed that no officers grabbed her. PO Singh did not mention § 87(2)(b) was holding objects in her hands or acting erratically.

PO Guerrerodeoleo's body-worn camera was played into the record during PO Singh's interview (Board Review 10). Upon reviewing the body-worn camera footage, PO Singh added that he believed PO Guerrerodeoleo grabbed § 87(2)(b)'s arms because her intention was to arrest § 87(2)(b) for criminal contempt. PO Singh was not worried for his safety or the other officers' safety.

PO Polancobalcacer's statement was generally consistent with that of the other officers, except, PO Polancobalcacer acknowledged that PO Guerrerodeoleo held § 87(2)(b)'s arms between her forearm and her wrist with an open palm. PO Polancobalcacer did not know if § 87(2)(b) was free to go because he did not stop her.

PO Guerrerodeoleo's body-worn camera footage was played into the record during PO Polancobalcacer's interview (Board Review 10). Upon reviewing the body-worn camera footage, PO Polancobalcacer identified himself as the officer standing in front of § 87(2)(b) at 9:14 minutes. PO Polancobalcacer explained that he was "stalling" § 87(2)(b) so the officers could confirm with Sgt. Ross whether they needed to detain her. PO Polancobalcacer "stalled" § 87(2)(b) by standing in front of her in the narrow hallway until Sgt. Ross said to let § 87(2)(b) go.

Sgt. Ross said he called the Domestic Violence Unit to get more information on the document that § 87(2)(b) gave him. Sgt. Ross did not give the officers any instructions before he called or while he was on the phone. While Sgt. Ross was on the phone, he could see PO Polancobalcacer, PO Guerrerodeoleo, and PO Singh, standing closer to § 87(2)(b)'s apartment. Sgt. Ross did not know what the officers were doing while he was on the phone, nor could he hear what they were saying. When § 87(2)(b) exited her apartment, PO Polancobalcacer or PO Singh, and PO Guerrerodeoleo impeded § 87(2)(b) from walking down the hallway by blocking her with their bodies. Sgt. Ross did not see any officers grab § 87(2)(b) at any point. Sgt. Ross told the officers to let § 87(2)(b) go and they stepped away from her and let her walk toward the elevator.

§ 87(2)(b)'s § 87(2)(b) records (Board Review 16) contained a report from § 87(2)(b), completed by § 87(2)(b). The report stated that, § 87(2)(b) had sustained wrist pain from the previous day. § 87(2)(b) told § 87(2)(b) that someone held both her wrists very tightly during an argument which produced extreme pain to the area. She has not been able to use her right-hand wrist since the event. § 87(2)(b) was diagnosed by § 87(2)(b) with a wrist contusion after performing X-Rays on § 87(2)(b)'s right-hand wrist.

§ 87(2)(b), § 87(2)(g)
§ 87(2)(b). It was undisputed that Sgt. Ross did not give PO Polancobalcacer, PO Guerrerodeoleo, or PO Singh, any instructions prior to their stop of § 87(2)(b) and instructed them to let § 87(2)(b) go.

People v. DeBour, 1976 40 N.Y. 2d 210 (1976), found that when an officer has reasonable suspicion that a person has committed, is committing or is about to commit a felony or misdemeanor, the CPL authorizes a forcible stop and detention of that person (Board Review 23)

According to New York Penal Law 215.51 (Board Review 18), when an individual violates a duly served order of protection, or such order of which the individual has actual knowledge because he or she was present in court when such order was issued, or an order of protection issued by a court of competent jurisdiction in New York or in another state, territorial or tribal jurisdiction, that individual would be found in criminal contempt in the first degree.

§ 87(2)(g)

§ 87(2)(g)

According to NYPD Patrol Guide Procedure 221-02 and 221-03, when a member of service must gain compliance, control, or custody of an uncooperative subject the member should comply with P.G. 22-01, “Force Guidelines,” and take necessary action to protect life and personal safety of all persons present, including subjects being placed into custody (Board Review 19).

§ 87(2)(g)

Allegation H – Abuse of Authority: Sergeant Patrick Ross used physical force against § 87(2)(b).

Panel 5A-2019 returned this case to investigators to plead several allegations against Sgt. Ross, including this allegation.

It is undisputed that Sgt. Ross did not personally use any force against § 87(2)(b) and only PO Guerrerodeoleo used force against § 87(2)(b). It is further undisputed that Sgt. Ross was not physically present when PO Guerrerodeoleo was using force against § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) did not authorize her to use any force, and as soon as he was aware that force was being used he commanded the officer to cease. § 87(2)(g)

Allegation I – Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Lissette Guerrerodeoleo failed to provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card.

Allegation J – Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Sahib Singh failed to provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card.

Allegation K – Abuse of Authority: Police Officer Jaily Polancobalcacer failed to provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card.

Allegation L – Abuse of Authority: Sergeant Patrick Ross failed to provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card.

§ 87(2)(b) stated that after the officers let her pass, she and § 87(2)(b) went to the elevators on her floor and exited her apartment building. § 87(2)(b) did not receive business cards from any of the officers.

PO Guerrerodeoleo acknowledged that she did not give § 87(2)(b) a business card but said that she did not have to because the officers did not stop her, the incident happened quickly, and § 87(2)(b) did not ask for a business card.

PO Singh acknowledged that he did not give § 87(2)(b) a business card but did not think there was a chance to give § 87(2)(b) a business card. PO Singh also believed that because the officers had probable cause to arrest § 87(2)(b) they did not need to give her a business card.

PO Polancobalcacer acknowledged that he did not give § 87(2)(b) a business card because he did not stop her.

Sgt. Ross said no officers gave § 87(2)(b) business cards. Sgt. Ross believed that if someone was stopped, they had to be given a business card, but Sgt. Ross did not feel § 87(2)(b) was stopped at any point.

PO Guerrerodeoleo's body-worn camera footage captures this portion of the incident in its entirety (Board Review 10). At 09:37 minutes, after being allowed to continue down the hall, § 87(2)(b) stands by the elevator bank with § 87(2)(b) for approximately one minute while waiting for the elevator. The officers speak with her during this time but do not offer business cards.

It was undisputed that PO Guerrerodeoleo, PO Singh, PO Polancobalcacer, and Sgt. Ross, did not provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card at any point during this incident. § 87(2)(g)

Although PO Guerrerodeoleo stated that the incident happened too quickly to provide § 87(2)(b) with a business card, and PO Singh said there was no opportunity, body-worn camera footage showed the officers conversing with § 87(2)(b) at the conclusion of the incident for approximately one minute while she waited for the elevator.

According to the Right to Know Act as defined in Section 14-174 of the New York City Administrative Code, an officer must offer a business card to someone at the conclusion of any law enforcement activity defined under the act, including pedestrian stops, that does not result in an arrest or summons (Board Review 24).

According to NYPD Patrol Guide Procedure 203-09, an officer must provide a business card for a law enforcement activity, including a stop; where an officer has an individualized, reasonable suspicion that the person stopped has committed, is committing, or is about to commit a crime and where a reasonable person would not feel free to end the encounter (Board Review 20).
