Case Summary

Part of the following incident was captured on cell phone video (see Board Review #1) obtained from and recorded by the passenger of the vehicle, § 87(2)(b)

At approximately 10:18 a.m. on August 3, 2015, § 87(2)(b) was driving a white commercial box truck westbound on Manhattan Avenue between Norman Avenue and Nassau Avenue in Brooklyn. § 87(2)(b)'s son, § 87(2)(b) was sitting in the front passenger's seat. As they drove, an unmarked police car pulled them over and an officer identified as PO Julia Nazim of the 94th Precinct approached. PO Nazim allegedly opened the front passenger's side door and requested identification from both civilians, stating that they were not wearing seatbelts. However, as that type of truck reportedly only had waist belts with no chest straps, both civilians reportedly showed her that they were in fact wearing seatbelts, causing her to return § 87(2)(b)'s identification and walk away. As she returned to her car, § 87(2)(b) stuck his head out the door and yelled for PO Nazim to provide her information. Continuing to walk away, PO Nazim allegedly stated, "No," and dismissed the request by flapping her hand behind her (Allegation A). PO Nazim departed without issuing any summons or making any arrests, and she did not record this incident in her memo book (Allegation B).

Mediation, Civil and Criminal Histories

- Although the salient points of mediation were explained to § 87(2)(b) over the telephone as well as during his sworn statement, he still chose for the case to be investigated.
- [§ 87(2)(b)] [§§ 86(1)(3)&(4)] [§ 87(2)(c)]
- As of August 19, 2015, no notice of claim has been filed with the City of New York regarding this incident (see Board Review #2).

Civilian and Officer CCRB Histories

- PO Nazim has been a member of the NYPD for four years and has been a subject in three prior CCRB cases involving four allegations, none of which have been substantiated. However, one of these allegations was for a refusal to provide her name and shield number, which was closed as complaint withdrawn.
- This is the first complaint filed by either § 87(2)(b) or § 87(2)(b) (see Board Review #3).

Findings and Recommendations

Allegations not pleaded

- § 87(2)(g)

Explanation of Subject Officer Identification

Both civilians maintained that the subject officer was alone in an unmarked black Crown Victoria and both described her as a 30-year-old white female who stood 5'3" to 5'6", weighed 145 to 180 pounds, and had long dark hair. Both civilians also claimed to have read the name "Nazim" on her shield at the time of the incident. As heard on the video, the civilians also recorded the officer's license plate number as "§ 87(2)(e), § 87(2)" A fleet services search identified that license plate as belonging to RMP #010406 (see Board Review #4).

Although she had no recollection of this incident, PO Julia Nazim (see Board Review #5) is a § 87(2)(b) year-old white female who stands 5'7", weighs 170 pounds, has long dark hair, was driving an unmarked black Crown Victoria (#104), and was assigned to the 94th Precinct where this incident occurred. § 87(2)(g)

Allegation A—Abuse of Authority: PO Julia Nazim refused to provide her shield number to

§ 87(2)(b)

The testimonies of § 87(2)(b) (see Board Review #6) and § 87(2)(b) (see Board Review #7) were largely consistent in that PO Nazim approached the truck, opened the driver's side door, and requested both of their identifications for not wearing seatbelts. They both maintained that after showing her that they were wearing waist straps, just not chest straps, PO Nazim returned § 87(2)(b)'s identification and began walking back to her car, which was directly behind their truck. Both civilians further alleged that before she reached her car, § 87(2)(b) loudly requested her information, to which she flapped her hand dismissively behind her. While § 87(2)(b) stated that PO Nazim gave no verbal response whatsoever, § 87(2)(b) alleged that she stated, "No," in addition to using the above hand gesture.

The video footage provided by § 87(2)(b) shows § 87(2)(b) leaning out of the driver's side seat of the car and yelling, "One second officer, one second. I'm sorry but I need to get your information, is that fine?" Although the response from the officer off-camera is not fully intelligible, it is a clipped response that sounds like, "No." Despite seeing photographs of the civilians, hearing a detailed description of the incident, and watching the aforementioned video footage, PO Nazim (see Board Review #8) had no recollection of this incident and could not make any definitive statements about her actions.

An officer is required to provide her name, rank, shield number, and command to anyone who requests it, as outlined in Patrol Guide Procedure 203-09 (see Board Review #9).
