Synopsis

§ 87(2)(b) filed a complaint at the 63rd Precinct on October 7, 2003. On October 7, 2003, § 87(2)(b)'s vehicle was towed from the § 87(2)(b) parking lot for having outstanding tickets. § 87(2)(b) had her two small children with her. The towing company called the police to the scene. Officer Granowetter and Officer McGlynn were the two officers who responded. § 87(2)(b) asked PO Granowetter and PO McGlynn to give her and her children a ride home. The officers responded that they could not provide her with a ride home. § 87(2)(b) asked the officers to contact someone else who could assist her. § 87(2)(b) asked the officers for their name and badge numbers two or three times before they reluctantly gave her the information. While § 87(2)(b) was writing down the officer's information, she placed her belongings on the RMP. PO Granowetter yelled at § 87(2)(b) to take her stuff off the RMP. When § 87(2)(b) asked for the superior officer's name, PO McGlynn said "there is no superior officer, the 63rd Precinct is my superior officer." While § 87(2)(b) was still leaning on the RMP PO Granowetter got into the RMP and attempted to drive away. In doing this, the RMP's tire rolled over § 87(2)(b)'s foot. PO Granowetter stopped the RMP and moved the wheel to extract § 87(2)(b)'s foot. PO Granowetter and PO McGlynn drove away. § 87(2)(b) called 911 to report the incident. EMS arrived to the scene and examined § 87(2)(b)'s foot. § 87(2)(b) refused to go to the hospital. A sergeant from the 63rd Precinct arrived to the scene and brought § 87(2)(b) and her children back to the precinct to file a complaint.

The investigator attempted to contact § 87(2)(b) on October 20, 2003 and October 22, 2003. § 87(2)(b) was unavailable on both of these dates. On October 20th and October 22nd the investigator left a message asking § 87(2)(b) to contact the investigator. On October 23, 2003, the investigator received a message from § 87(2)(b) stating that she was unable to speak with the investigator until the following week. On October 29, 2003, having not heard from § 87(2)(b) the investigator attempted to contact § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) was unavailable. The investigator left § 87(2)(b) a message asking § 87(2)(b) to contact the investigator. A please contact letter was sent to § 87(2)(b) to her home residence. On November 3, 2003, the investigator attempted to contact § 87(2)(b). The investigator received a busy signal. The investigator attempted to contact § 87(2)(b) two more times in a thirty minute period. The investigator received a busy signal on each attempt. The investigator was unable to leave a message. On November 5, 2003, the investigator attempted to contact § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) was again unavailable. The investigator left a message asking § 87(2)(b) to contact the investigator. A final contact letter was sent to § 87(2)(b) to her home residence.

On November 5, 2003, § 87(2)(b) contacted the investigator. § 87(2)(b) stated that she did not have time to come to CCRB to provide a sworn statement. When the investigator explained the procedure to § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) stated that she would look at her schedule and call the investigator in two days to schedule an appointment for the following week. On November 10, 2003, still having not heard from § 87(2)(b) the investigator attempted to contact § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) was not available. The investigator left a message stating to § 87(2)(b) that it was imperative that she contact the investigator within the next two days to schedule an appointment. § 87(2)(b) has not attempted to contact the investigator since November 5, 2003.
