Synopsis

On January 1, 2008, § 87(2)(b) called the CCRB and filed the following complaint via the agency's Call Processing System. On January 1, 2008, at approximately 10:00 a.m., § 87(2)(b) requested that officers take her complaint regarding four men who were trying to break into her apartment and rape her. Lt. Brian Mullen (identified by his nameplate) was one of the officers on scene. Lt. Mullen walked away from § 87(2)(b) and laughed at her when she asked officers to take her complaint. § 87(2)(b) showed Lt. Mullen her middle finger, to which he replied, "Do that again and I'll break your finger."

The investigator called § 87(2)(b) six times and sent her two letters between January 8 and 24, 2008. When the investigator spoke to § 87(2)(b) on January 24, 2008, she withdrew her complaint because her mother is sick and she does not have time to speak to the investigator. When the investigator asked § 87(2)(b) if anyone from the NYPD or the CCRB coerced her into withdrawing her complaint, she said no. On January 24, 2008, the investigator sent § 87(2)(b) a complaint withdrawal letter and it will be included in the case file when it is returned. Supervising Investigator Rosen listened to the taped withdrawal.
