DISCLOSURES

In connection with the above person whom the People may call as a witness in that matter, please be aware of the following disclosure(s):

1. The New York City Police Department has deemed substantiated an allegation that on or about April 8, 2006, having been present at an incident where shots were fired and witnessing a police chase, he failed and neglected to remain at the scene of the incident and to request the response of the patrol supervisor as required. Officer Abraham pleaded guilty to this allegation.
2. The New York City Police Department has also deemed substantiated the following allegations: (a) that on or about October 8, 2007, he wrongfully punched an individual known to the department in her face and struck her with a belt causing a minor injury; (b) that on or about January 19, 2008, he wrongfully slapped his girlfriend in her face; and (c) that on or about January 20, 2008, having purchased two Smith & Wesson firearms, wrongfully failed to report the acquisition of said firearms to the department as required. Officer Abraham was determined to be guilty of these allegations.
3. The New York City Police Department has also deemed substantiated the following allegations: (a) in or about and between January 2007 and January 2008, while assigned to the School Safety Division in a high school in Bronx, New York, he wrongfully maintained a personal relationship with an individual who was a student at said school; and (b) the same relationship involved a student who he reasonably believed to be engaged in, likely to engage in, or to have engaged in criminal activities in that the student had been arrested on one or more occasions. Officer Abraham pleaded guilty to these allegations.

Should additional information subject to disclosure regarding this individual become available, you will be advised accordingly.

Any information regarding civil law suit(s) against the officer is not necessarily a complete list of civil law suits in which that officer is a defendant.

The People reserve the right to oppose or move to limit the use in the case at hand of this information and any other information disclosed in the future.

If you have any questions in this regard, please contact the Assistant District Attorney assigned to the case in connection with which you are receiving this disclosure.
