The complainant ██████████, known to the department under NYSID# ██████████ M/B/32 yo, who resides at ██████████ was interviewed by Lieutenant Richard Healey, Deputy Inspector Richard Hellman, Bureau Chief Wanda Perez-Maldonado, and ADA Allison Green on Thursday, October 26, 2017 while present at ██████████

██████████ stated that on Friday, September, 15, 2017 he was working as a TLC driver, he was driving a black Hyundai Sonata, NY plate ██████████ along with passenger ██████████. ██████████ stated on September 15, 2017 he was driving up the ramp, the motorist behind him was honking the horn wanting him to drive faster. ██████████ continued to drive the speed limit and would not permit the motorist behind him to pass. The motorist behind him eventually pulled up alongside of him and began cursing at him, then he displayed a black firearm.

A background check of ██████████ revealed complainant has ██████████ two FADO complaints reported to the Civilian Complaint Review Board (not involving subject officer(s)), and no history in IAPRO and ICMS.

Identification and Interview of Witness(es):

On, October 26, 2017, witness ██████████ who resides at ██████████ was interviewed by Sergeant Charles Haran and Sergeant Detective Squad MariCruz Crespo of IAB Group 21. ██████████ could not remember the exact date of incident or location. ██████████ stated that on the incident date she was sitting behind the front passenger seat. She stated the subject officer's vehicle cut off the taxi cab and got upset when the taxi cab got back in front of them. The subject officer kept trying to cut them off, he finally pulled up on the left side of the taxi cab and began "trash" talking, she remembers seeing a female in the front passenger side of the subject's vehicle. ██████████ observed the subject Detective Angel Irizarry use his right hand to display a firearm, she also added he did not point it at the taxi driver the firearm was face down, he then picked up a shield and displayed it to the both of them.

██████████ stated a "Sergeant" (described as wearing a white shirt), flagged down the taxi cab and told them to pull over. ██████████ stated that the "Sergeant" told them he was in charge of the precinct. The Sergeant spoke to the subject officer, then the subject officer walked over to the taxi cab trying to smooth things over; asking them what he could do to make the situation better. Once they finished speaking with the subject officer, ██████████ went over to the supervisor to ask why the subject officer pulled out his firearm. The supervisor got angry and said it was over; to get back in the car and move on. Since the subject officer provided ██████████ with his cell phone number to discuss her housing situation, she stated that she called him later on, on the incident date, to confirm that what his phone number. She said the subject officer told ██████████ to meet him at an unknown location to discuss such housing situation. However, neither ██████████ nor ██████████ met up with him. She has not spoken to the subject officer since then. She provided the following information for the subject officer: Angel, cellphone # ██████████. ██████████ stated that she recorded a portion of the incident, but it has since been deleted. She did not forward it to anyone and there is no copy of it. She did state ██████████ has video of the incident.

Canvass:

Cell phone video clips were provided by the Complainant. These clips did not capture the alleged menacing nor any part of the road rage verbal altercation; however, they did capture numerous conversations in which Detective Irizarry admitted displaying his firearm; however, he denies pointing the barrel at the complainant. DTS Irizarry is captured stating that he identified himself as a police officer and displayed his shield prior to displaying his firearm. DTS Irizarry is captured trying to explain why he displayed his firearm. DTS Irizarry claimed to be an undercover officer and believed the complainant might have recognized him. DTS Irizarry claimed that he feared for his safety. When the complainant rejects DTS Irizarry's numerous excuses, and attributes DTS Irizarry's actions to pure road rage, DTS Irizarry ultimately states "Listen, I admit, I fucked up; but again I was afraid". DTS Irizarry is captured offering to make it up to the complainant in exchange for the Complainant deleting the video of the events leading to their arrival at SRG which the Complainant claimed to possess. Detective Irizarry is captured offering the complainant a PBA Card which he subsequently provides to the complainant during an arranged meeting (The complainant produced said card, which had Detective Irizarry's signature and phone number on the back of the card). Detective Irizarry is captured boasting that he had numerous connections in the Housing Authority and could obtain housing for the passenger (witness [REDACTED]). DTS Irizarry advises the complainant that he knows dudes who does rims, dudes that do tints and dudes that do stereos. DTS Irizarry tells the Complainant that all he had to do is call and DTS Irizarry would have it taken care of. DTS Irizarry informed the Complainant that he knows a lot of people in the New York City Housing Authority and offered to get the Complainant a summer job working for the NYCHA. DTS Irizarry repeatedly inquires as to what the Complainant needs/wants? DTS Irizarry tells the Complainant "Listen to me what you got on your phone; you make it go away and we talk a deal." DTS Irizarry offers to give the Complainant forty dollars to buy lunch. The complainant turns that offer down, telling DTS Irizarry that he doesn't eat McDonalds and that his lunch will cost between sixty and seventy dollars. DTS Irizarry agreed to accommodate the Complainant if he erased the video on his phone. DTS Irizarry keeps pressuring the complainant to negotiate a deal to erase his phone video. The complainant then asks DTS Irizarry if he was worried about the video; to which DTS Irizarry replies "I'm worried; I'm worried, come on!"
