Case Summary

On October 13, 2017, § 87(2)(b) filed this complaint with the CCRB. During his intake call, § 87(2)(b) scheduled an in-person interview at the CCRB for October 18. Just prior to his interview, § 87(2)(b) called the undersigned investigator to reschedule his interview for October 24 because he went to the wrong address. On October 24, § 87(2)(b) failed to appear for his interview, and did not call to reschedule. On October 25, the undersigned investigator called § 87(2)(b) to reschedule and find out what happened. He forgot his appointment, but asked if he should continue to pursue the case considering the subject officer has not bothered him since their last encounter. The undersigned investigator told him he had the option to withdraw his case, but that the CCRB would continue to investigate his case if he that is what he wanted to do. At the <1:06> mark of IA #11, § 87(2)(b) said he would like to withdraw because he saw the officer again and he did not bother him. At <3:22>, § 87(2)(b) confirmed that he was withdrawing this complaint on his own free will and was not being coerced by any member for the NYPD or the CCRB. Manager Vanessa Rosen reviewed the withdrawal statement and determined that it adhered to agency standards. On October 25, 2017, a complaint withdrawal letter was sent via United States Postal Service to the mailing address provided by § 87(2)(b). The letter will be added to the case file upon its receipt. § 87(2)(g)
