With reference to the above-mentioned case, and pursuant to our continuing obligations, the People make the following disclosures:

The People are aware that during the time he/she has been employed by the New York City Police Department, Lawrence Hotaling has been named as a defendant or co-defendant in several federal civil lawsuits.

1. Hennigan v. City of New York, et al., 17CV3193, which is currently pending in the Eastern District of New York.

A review of the officer's Central Personnel Index (CPI) revealed the following:

1. On March 27, 2000, Officer Hotaling had a substantiated departmental investigation for issuing a summons but never processing it, for which no disciplinary action is noted.
2. On July 7, 2006, he had a substantiated departmental investigation for improper use of a parking permit for which no disciplinary action is noted.
3. On November 27, 2018, he had a substantiated departmental investigation for failing to write a report for which no disciplinary action is noted.

A review of the officer's CCRB history revealed the following:
