OFFICER: NEIL NAPPI
TAX NUMBER: 889 121

DISCLOSURE ADVISORY

For the person named above, whom the People may call as a witness, please be advised as follows.

1. The New York City Police Department (NYPD) has deemed substantiated an allegation that on or about June 11, 2002, Neil Nappi accidentally discharged one round from his firearm while attempting to apprehend two individuals for Criminal Possession of a Controlled Substance in the First Degree.
2. The New York City Police Department (NYPD) has deemed substantiated allegations that there were numerous acts of misconduct at the Manhattan Narcotics Major Case Squad, including female officers' misconduct being overlooked in exchange for personal favors, conducting personal business during work hours (such as taking relatives to medical appointments or visiting relatives in hospitals, shopping online on work computers, writing personal emails from work computers, making personal calls in the field), "using authority" to bail out relatives, using work cars for personal business, having other officers sign in and out on others' behalf when not actually at the precinct, officers having sex with each other at the precinct and in work cars, drinking during work hours, filing false reports, and "pick[ing] and choos[ing] targets". Neil Nappi was a sergeant at the time these allegations were made.

Various publicly available websites and databases contain disciplinary information for certain law enforcement officers. Information in such databases about this officer is not necessarily included in this advisory.

Any information herein regarding civil lawsuits against an officer is not necessarily a complete list of civil lawsuits in which that officer is a defendant.

Allegations of misconduct that have not been substantiated and are not pending (including, but not limited to, findings of unsubstantiated, unfounded, and exonerated), and allegations of technical infractions, are not subject to disclosure and are not included in this advisory.

The decision to include information in this advisory does not represent a conclusion by the People that it is required to be disclosed.

The People reserve the right to oppose or move to limit the use of any information included herein or disclosed in the future.

If you have any questions, please contact the Assistant District Attorney assigned to the case on which you are receiving this advisory.
