Synopsis

§ 87(2)(b) filed this complaint via the Call Processing System on March 31st, 2007. The undersigned investigator called § 87(2)(b) on April 5th, 2007, at which time she provided a statement. She said that in the early morning of March 30th, 2007, her boyfriend § 87(2)(b) got in a fight at White Castle and was stabbed. He came home to their apartment at § 87(2)(b), and § 87(2)(b) called 911 for an ambulance but hung up because § 87(2)(b) did not want to go to the hospital. She finally convinced him to go, and took him to the hospital herself. Detective Matthew McCrosson from the 52nd Precinct Detective Squad § 87(2)(b) provided his name and command; she did not explicitly state how she knew the information came to the hospital and questioned her about the stabbing, she told him what she knew, and that she did not know much about it. He left, but returned to the hospital the next day and told her he wanted her to make a statement. § 87(2)(b) went voluntarily with Detective McCrosson to the 52nd Precinct station house (she did not provide the time), where he interrogated her for two hours and told her that she was lying, and that he believed she had stabbed § 87(2)(b) because § 87(2)(b) had been hitting her. § 87(2)(g)

When § 87(2)(b) denied stabbing § 87(2)(b) and being beaten by him, Detective McCrosson told her she was “full of shit.” He had a female officer check § 87(2)(b) entire body, including having her lift her shirt, for bruises. He told her he needed to speak to her children, and threatened to get an ACS order to remove her children if she did not let him speak to them. He also questioned her about § 87(2)(b) drug-related activity. Detective McCrosson told § 87(2)(b) he would keep her in the station house all night, but she had her mother call a lawyer and the lawyer called the station house, and she was then released. She did not hear from Detective McCrosson again until April 2nd, 2007, when he called her and asked how, and where, § 87(2)(b) was.

This is the second complaint § 87(2)(b) has recently filed with the CCRB—§ 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b) The undersigned investigator had already called § 87(2)(b) twice and sent her a please call letter regarding the earlier case when § 87(2)(b) filed the second complaint. § 87(2)(b) cut off the conversation of April 5th, 2007, prematurely and without scheduling an interview because she had to give her daughter an insulin shot. She said she would call back the next day, and would also have § 87(2)(b) call. Since then, the investigator has called and left § 87(2)(b) three messages, stating that if § 87(2)(b) did not get in touch and schedule an interview, the CCRB would have to close the cases. § 87(2)(b) was sent a final please-call letter on April 18th, 2007. The letter was not returned to the CCRB as undeliverable. As of April 26th, 2007, § 87(2)(b) has not contacted the CCRB. § 87(2)(g)
