Comments Ms [REDACTED] states that it took almost a month for the police to apprehend her perpetrator and then she was released from jail the very next day, furthermore she has been unable to get an order of protection. Investigating supervisor explained to Ms [REDACTED] that the detectives have a lot of cases and therefore sometimes it takes time to apprehend the perpetrator. It was also explained to her that the police department has no control of when a perpetrator gets released from jail. Furthermore, she

was referred to follow up with criminal court in order to obtain an order of protection. Ms [REDACTED] was very grateful that the investigating supervisor explained everything to her. Investigating supervisor recommends that the officer be exonerated because he did not violate any department procedure. Po Alongi did take a complainant report at 0930 hours on the day of the incident and perp was later apprehended by 101PDU
