Case Summary

§ 87(2)(b) filed this complaint with IAB over the telephone on October 1, 2012, generating the original log number 12-52013. The CCRB received the complaint on October 5, 2012.

On September 27, 2012, at approximately 1:20 a.m., in the vicinity of Myrtle Avenue and Bleeker Street in Brooklyn, § 87(2)(b) noticed an unmarked vehicle with three plainclothes officers, one of whom he recognized as Detective Velez. An unidentified officer in the driver's seat of the unmarked vehicle asked § 87(2)(b) "What's up, pussy?" (Allegation A). The three officers exited the unmarked vehicle and stopped § 87(2)(b) and his cousin, § 87(2)(b) whose last name is unknown (Allegation B). An officer went into § 87(2)(b)'s boxers and searched his genital area, upon which the officer found 165 small zip lock bags of crack cocaine (Allegation C). Det. Velez, shield number 24737, arrested § 87(2)(b) and his cousin was released. § 87(2)(g)

§ 87(2)(b)

On October 10, 2012, the undersigned investigator sent § 87(2)(b) a "Please Call" letter and on October 22, 2012, the investigator sent § 87(2)(b) a "Final Please Call" letter, neither of which were returned by USPS. Between October 10, 2012 and October 23, 2012, the investigator called § 87(2)(b) five times. During four of the calls, the investigator was unable to leave voicemail messages and during the fifth call, a woman claimed that § 87(2)(b) no longer lived at the residence. The investigator requested and received a LexisNexis report, which provided three potential telephone numbers and addresses for § 87(2)(b). On October 23, 2012 the investigator called all three telephone numbers, one of which went to voicemail and two of which were no longer in service. On October 26, 2012, the NYC Department of Correction website indicated that § 87(2)(b) was not incarcerated. As of the date of this report, § 87(2)(b) has made no further attempt to contact the CCRB. § 87(2)(g)
