Case Summary

§ 87(2)(b) filed this complaint in person at the 67th Precinct Stationhouse on August 27, 2012. Her complaint was received via fax at the CCRB on September 4, 2012.

On August 12, 2012, § 87(2)(b) was pulling up to her house in her car when six police officers pulled her car door open and screamed at her to “get the fuck out of the car or [they] would drag [her] out.” At the time, § 87(2)(b) was wearing only a bra and shorts. An officer, whom § 87(2)(b) identified as PO Sears with shield number 5952, and whom the investigation identified as PO John Sears of the 67th Precinct, threatened to “throw [her] ass in a cell so they could enjoy [her]” if she did not do as he asked. PO Sears threw his hat on the ground and screamed that he was going to “take care” of her. Within the following ten minutes, an unidentified female police officer, PO1, came to § 87(2)(b)'s car to calm PO Sears down and apologized to § 87(2)(b) for PO Sears' behavior. § 87(2)(b) asked the officers to call the commanding officer but they refused.

On September 7, 2012, the undersigned investigator sent § 87(2)(b) a first please call letter to her residence. On September 10, 2012, the investigator called § 87(2)(b) and a recorded message said the person was not available. The investigator was not able to leave a voice message. On September 12, 2012, Lexis Nexis search results for alternative contact information for § 87(2)(b) yielded no alternative phone numbers or other current addresses. Between September 13, 2012 and October 2, 2012, the investigator placed four more calls to § 87(2)(b) whose phone was not in service. On October 2, 2012, a final please call letter was sent to § 87(2)(b). On October 5, 2012, the investigator verified that § 87(2)(b) was not incarcerated, via the Department of Corrections inmate locator. To date, none of the letters sent to § 87(2)(b) have been returned by the USPS as undeliverable, and § 87(2)(b) has not called the investigator.
