DISCLOSURE ADVISORY

For the person named above, whom the People may call as a witness, please be advised as follows.

1. The New York City Police Department (NYPD) has deemed substantiated an allegation that Shamika Covington on March 21, 2010 violated Patrol Guide Procedure 207-21, in that upon observing, and becoming aware or receiving an allegation of corruption or serious misconduct involving a member of the service, did fail to notify Internal Affairs Bureau. This finding arose following an investigation of two sets of allegations made by the owner of a strip club in the Bronx. The first set of allegations was that police were harassing him because a sergeant was friends and business partners with the owner of a neighboring business (and that the owner had just bought the building in which the strip club was located and was attempting to evict the strip club). The second set of allegations was that members of the NYPD Vice Enforcement unit had seized money without vouchering it and also used excessive force.
