Synopsis

On September 23rd 2008, § 87(2)(b) telephoned the Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB) to report an incident that occurred on September 19th 2008. On September 19th 2008 at approximately 11:00 PM, § 87(2)(b) was inside the 48th Precinct in the Bronx and was being fingerprinted by Officer Majeh Saleh. Officer Saleh experienced some difficulty during the process, and told her to “shut the fuck up.” When § 87(2)(b) stated to him that he was behaving rudely, he grabbed her by the shirt, pulled her closer to him, stuck his finger in her face and told her to “shut up” again (Allegation A). All information has been gleaned from the initial complaint narrative as § 87(2)(b) has been unreachable by telephone and mail.

§ 87(2)(b) was telephoned by the CCRB five times between October 6th and 16th 2008 and unreturned please call messages were left on § 87(2)(b)'s voicemail. Two Please Call letters were sent to § 87(2)(b) on October 6th and 14th 2008, and were also met no response. The letters were not returned. A Lexis Nexis search turned up negative results for additional telephone numbers of addresses for § 87(2)(b). A search of BADS and OCA have shown that § 87(2)(b) is not currently incarcerated.
