With reference to the above-mentioned case, and pursuant to our continuing obligations, the People make the following disclosure: on July 29, 2015, during trial preparation, Lieutenant Thomas Reed indicated that during the time he has been employed by the New York City Police Department, he had been named as a defendant or co-defendant in a several civil lawsuits. Because his involvement in the lawsuits was generally limited to only receiving notice of the claims from the Law Department of the City of New York, Lt. Reed had little or no substantive knowledge about either the status of the lawsuits, or the specific allegations contained in the complaints, except that he did recall one case involved an automobile accident that occurred while he was in a departmental vehicle. During the discussion, Lt. Reed indicated that he did not recall having been deposed in any civil lawsuit, nor giving trial testimony in any civil lawsuit.

As a result of the conversation with Lt. Reed, on July 30, 2015, the People performed a simple name search of the Public Access to Court Electronic Records ["PACER"] website, and found the following cases which list "Thomas Reed" and "City of New York" as civil defendants:

1. Levy v. City of New York, 10CV5295 (WFK) - settled in 2013 for an undisclosed amount, with stipulation of settlement filed ending litigation in Eastern District of New York.
