With reference to the above-mentioned case, and pursuant to our continuing obligations, the People make the following disclosure: The People are aware that during the time Police Officer Jason Boreman has been employed by the New York City Police Department:

1. In January 2016, an allegation against the officer was substantiated for "computer misuse."
2. In December 2016, the officer, while off duty, attempted to access the threat assessment protection unit data base without permission, authority or department necessity, and as a result forfeited one vacation day.
3. In August 2018, an allegation against the officer was substantiated for "fail to properly search-vehicle-department vehicle," and "found property-in department vehicle- controlled substance," and as a result the officer received a command discipline.
4. In June 2019, an allegation against the officer was substantiated for "other dept rules/procedures violation," and "MOS/MOS Incident (on duty)."

The People reserve the right to move in limine to preclude reference to this information, or otherwise to object to its use or introduction into evidence during trial.
