Case Summary

On February 1, 2017, § 87(2)(b) filed this complaint with the NYPD's Internal Affairs Bureau, generating the original log number 17-4052. In her initial complaint, § 87(2)(b) provided her telephone number, mailing address, and email address. On February 6, 2017, IAB forwarded this complaint to the CCRB.

On February 8, 2017, the undersigned called § 87(2)(b) at the telephone number originally provided. § 87(2)(b) did not answer this call, and no voicemail could be left because § 87(2)(b)'s telephone does not have voicemail capability. On the same day, the undersigned sent please call letters to § 87(2)(b) at the email address and mailing address originally provided.

On February 10, 2017, § 87(2)(b) called the undersigned and left a voicemail requesting callback.

On February 13, 2017, the undersigned called § 87(2)(b) at the number originally provided. § 87(2)(b) answered this call, but was unable to speak and requested a call back on the following day.

On February 14, 2017, the undersigned called § 87(2)(b) at the number originally provided. At this time, § 87(2)(b) confirmed her contact information and provided a telephone statement. The undersigned offered § 87(2)(b) investigation and mediation as means to respond to her complaint. § 87(2)(b) requested 24 hours to consider these two options, and asked the undersigned to email her additional information about investigation and mediation. On February 14, 2017, the undersigned sent § 87(2)(b) an email with links to the CCRB's website pages outlining the investigation and mediation processes.

On February 15, 2017, the undersigned called § 87(2)(b) at the number originally provided. § 87(2)(b) did not answer this call, and no voicemail could be left.

On February 16, 2017, the undersigned sent § 87(2)(b) a final please call letter at the mailing address and email address originally provided.

On February 16, 2017, § 87(2)(b) emailed the undersigned, stating that she did not wish to proceed with either investigation or mediation.

The undersigned sent additional emails to § 87(2)(b) on February 17, 2017 and February 22, 2017 informing § 87(2)(b) of the option of withdrawing her complaint and requesting callback in order to clarify how she wished to proceed.

The undersigned placed additional calls to § 87(2)(b) on February 17, 2017, February 21, 2017, February 23, 2017, and February 27, 2017. § 87(2)(b) did not answer these calls and no voicemails could be left.
