Synopsis

On September 21, 2006 at 8:29 AM, § 87(2)(b) called 911 and reported that police officers had harassed him. § 87(2)(b) stated that he was driving in the vicinity of Lefferts Avenue and New York Avenue in Brooklyn when two officers stopped him for unspecified reasons, then let him go. § 87(2)(b) stated the officers stopped him a second time and he became so upset that he started to cry. One officer told § 87(2)(b) “You’re acting like a pussy now. You’re like a bitch.” The other officer then proceeded to push § 87(2)(b) back into his vehicle. § 87(2)(b) provided no descriptions of the officers.

IAB referred the complaint to the CCRB on September 26, 2006. The IAB report identified PO1 as Salvatore Oliveri, Tax ID# 933641, and PO2 as Berkley Vantull, Tax ID# 934156. PO Oliveri’s memo book entry for September 21, 2006 confirmed he was working with PO Vantull and at 8:30 AM a car stop was conducted at Lincoln Road and Nostrand Avenue.

§ 87(2)(b) was reached via telephone on September 28, 2006 and during the telephone conversation, he provided a summary of the incident. He stated that after stopping his vehicle near Lefferts Avenue and New York Avenue, the two officers followed him in their patrol car. He described PO1 as a white male and PO2 as a black male. PO Oliveri is a white male and PO Vantull is a black male. When they pulled him over a second time on Nostrand Avenue near Maple Street and Lincoln Avenue, PO Oliveri “whopped” him in the chest and pulled him out of his car. § 87(2)(b) asked PO Oliveri why he did that and PO Vantull pushed him into the car and said, “Shut the fuck up, pussy.” § 87(2)(b) was becoming upset and asked the officers if they wanted to fight. § 87(2)(b) asked PO Vantull to put his gun in his patrol car, so they could talk “man to man” or fight. PO Vantull said, “Oh, you wanna fight?” and pushed § 87(2)(b) again. While PO Oliveri was issuing him a summons, § 87(2)(b) called 911 and was connected to IAB. The woman on the phone from IAB told him to get the name and badge number of the officer who was issuing the summons. PO Oliveri came back to § 87(2)(b) car and asked “Who the fuck you think you’re talking to?,” “grabbed” the phone, and briefly quarreled with the woman on the other line. PO Oliveri gave § 87(2)(b) his name, badge number, and a summons § 87(2)(b).

Also on September 28, 2006, an interview was scheduled with § 87(2)(b) at the CCRB for October 16, 2006. § 87(2)(b) failed to appear for his scheduled interview on October 16, 2006, without calling to cancel or reschedule. On October 17, 2006, a message was left for § 87(2)(b) on his telephone and a missed appointment letter was sent. Contact was made via telephone with § 87(2)(b) on October 18, 2006, and he rescheduled his CCRB interview for October 25, 2006. On October 24, 2006, a message was left on § 87(2)(b) telephone reminding him of the appointment. Another phone call was made to § 87(2)(b) on October 25, 2006, and a female provided an alternative phone number where he could be reached. However, § 87(2)(b) was not reached at that telephone number and did not appear for the interview and did not call to cancel or reschedule. § 87(2)(g)
