Case Summary

On October 19, 2017, § 87(2)(b) filed this complaint on behalf of her daughter, § 87(2)(b) over the phone with the CCRB.

On October 19, 2017, § 87(2)(b) called the police to her home, § 87(2)(b), in Brooklyn, because of a dispute she had with her neighbors. § 87(2)(b) let officers into her home, but a short time later LT Sean Claxton, of the 77th Precinct, entered home through a roof door, without § 87(2)(b)'s consent (Allegation A – Abuse of Authority).

§ 87(2)(b) provided § 87(2)(b)'s address, but stated that she did not have a working phone number. Public records searches for § 87(2)(b) performed through Lexis Nexis and Clear, located several additional phone numbers; however, when these numbers were called they were found to be either inoperable or to no longer belong to § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) was called five times between October 20, 2017, and December 8, 2017. On the first, second, and third call, § 87(2)(b) said that she had given messages to § 87(2)(b) and told her to call the CCRB. On the fourth call, § 87(2)(b) stated that § 87(2)(b) would call the CCRB that afternoon. On the last call, a voicemail message was left on § 87(2)(b)'s automated answering machine. Three letters were sent to § 87(2)(b) on October 20, 2017, November 16, 2017, and November 21, 2017. On December 11, 2017, a search of the Department of Corrections showed that § 87(2)(b) is not currently incarcerated. As of December 11, 2017, none of the letters sent to § 87(2)(b) has been returned by USPS as undeliverable, and § 87(2)(b) has not contacted the CCRB.
