With reference to the above-mentioned case, and pursuant to our continuing obligations, the People make the following disclosure:

The People performed a simple name search of the Public Access to Court Electronic Records ["PACER"] website, and found the following case which lists Ryan McGuinness as a civil defendant together with the "City of New York" in cases in the Eastern or Southern Districts of New York:

1. Mohammed v. City of New York et al., 1: 15-cv-01061-AMD-LB, settlement agreement reached without the admission of any fault or liability, case dismissed in 2016 with prejudice;
2. Small v. City of New York and The New York City Police Department: 14-cv-03469-GHW, settlement agreement reached without the admission of any fault or liability, case dismissed in 2015 with prejudice;

Additionally, during the time that he has been employed by the New York City Police Department, Lt. McGuinness, on or about March 6, 2018, while assigned to the 123 Precinct, engaged in conduct prejudicial to the good order, efficiency or discipline of the department, in that he failed to act properly in the presence of subordinates by acting discourteously towards an emotionally disturbed person in custody. Lt. McGuinness lost ten vacation days

During the time he has been employed by the New York City Police Department, Lt. McGuinness was given a command discipline for failure to safeguard property, specifically for failing to voucher prisoner property.

The People reserve the right to move in limine to preclude reference to this information, or otherwise to object to its use or introduction into evidence during trial.

Should you wish to discuss this matter, please do not hesitate to call me at [REDACTED] [REDACTED] during office hours.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
