DISCLOSURES

In connection with the above person, whom the People may call as a witness, please be aware of the following: New

1. The New York Police Department's Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB) deemed substantiated an allegation(s) that, on December 16, 1999, RODRIGO CABOLLERO unlawfully used force—with a motor vehicle in that, while off duty in the vicinity of Warren Street and Church Street in Manhattan RODRIGO CABOLLERO struck a civilian with his personal automobile while attempting to park his car while the civilian had informed him that he was holding the parking space for a truck driver making a delivery. The civilian stated that he was not injured as a result of this action. RODRIGO CABOLLERO told the civilian that he was a police officer with a badge and he only had an hour for lunch. The investigation determined that RODRIGO CABOLLERO was not, in fact, working on that date. The CCRB investigation concluded that RODRIGO CABOLLERO was not credible in his account of the incident citing certain inconsistencies in his account. The CCRB recommended Charges & Specifications be brought against RODRIGO CABOLLERO. Subsequently, the New York City Police Department deemed substantiated, upon his pleas of guilty, allegation(s) that, on or about December 16, 1999, while off duty, i) did wrongfully and without just cause, use excessive force against another person, and ii) after having identified himself as a police officer to a civilian, he refused to display his shield to the civilian.
