Case Summary

On January 25, 2017, $87(2)(b) filed this complaint via the CCRB's online complaint
System. On January 23, 2017, at approximately 6:00 p.m., Sergeant Peter Ahn, Police Officer Thomas Skobla, and Police Officer Yevgeniy Zaytsev responded to a radio run regarding a family dispute at $87(2)(5) in Queens.
Upon arriving at the location and being given permission to enter by $37(2)(b) the mother of $7(2)(b) the officers saw $37(2)(b) lying on her bed in her bedroom with the lights off. Moments later, Sgt. Ahn placed a handcuff on $37(2)(b) s left wrist, which caused her to begin having a panic attack. EMT $37(2)(b) told Sgt. Ahn that he "should" give a "minute" so that she could overcome the panic attack. Approximately 20 seconds later, Sgt. Ahn "climbed on to the bed," stood behind $37(2)(b) and he allegedly said, "I had enough of this shit" (Allegation A). Sgt. Ahn then placed one of his knees between $37(2)(b) s shoulder blades at the top center of her back and he pushed forward while simultaneously pulling the center chain of the handcuffs to get $37(2)(b) to stand up off of the bed (Allegation B). $37(2)(b) was then walked to a wheel chair located in the apartment, and taken to an ambulance located outside of $37(2)(b) was transported to $37(2)(b) was transported to $37(2)(b) . This case went passed the 90 day benchmark due to attempts to identify, locate, and interview the EMTs.
Mediation, Civil and Criminal Histories
• §87(2)(b) declined to mediate this complaint.
• As of July 11, 2017, the Notice of Claim inquiry with the NYC Comptroller's Office is still pending.
● § 87(2)(b)
 Civilian and Officer CCRB Histories This is the first CCRB complaint filed by $87(2)(b) (Board Review 02). This is the second CCRB complaint filed against Sergeant Peter Ahn, who has a total of three allegations in his CCRB history and who has been a member of service for seven years (see officer history). Of the three allegations previously made against Sgt. Ahn, a threat of arrest allegation was substantiated in CCRB case 201607604; for which the Board recommended formalized training and the NYPD disposition is still pending.
