also saw the Black male protestor being beaten with batons. She described the officer who pushed her and $87(2)(b) as a white male in a blue uniform who put his hands on her shoulders during the push. She did not see $87(2)(b) being punched. She initially stated that she did not hear officers use profanity, then amended her statement to say that an officer "probably" said "get the fuck out of here" (Board Review 06).

initially responded to CCRB contact attempts to provide a statement and video footage but later stated that his employer would not permit him to participate in this investigation (Board Review 07).

BWC

Three requests for body-worn camera footage to the NYPD were returned with negative results. The first request, performed for the 77th Precinct, the 78th Precinct, Strategic Response Group (SRG) 1, SRG 2, SRG 3, SRG 4, SRG 5, and the general SRG command (Board Review 08). The second query was performed for officers in the 88th Precinct and the aforementioned SRG commands. Additionally, the NYPD searched Axon for any videos taken near 56 Lefferts Place in Brooklyn (Board Review 09). The third search included officers from the 30th Precinct, 81st Precinct, the aforementioned SRG commands, and Counterterrorism. It also included the officers Captain Jonathan Korabel, Deputy Inspector Glynn, Captain Abdelhadi, and Assistant Chief Jeffrey Maddrey (Board Review 10).

Other Video Reviewed

The video provided by $87(2)(5) showed officers, but the clip was brief and identifying information such as their shield numbers, nameplates, or command pins could not be seen (Board Review 01).

The excerpts of footage taken by §87(2)(b) which were broadcast on which were similarly not clear enough to discern any identifying information on the officers (Board Review 02).

The footage from the cameras on the exterior of 56 Lefferts Place showed the incident but neither identities of specific officers nor vehicle numbers could be gleaned from this video (Board Reviews 03 and 04).

NYPD Documents Reviewed

The investigation queried Patrol Borough Brooklyn North and Patrol Borough Brooklyn South for detail rosters but did not receive any rosters that specifically covered the area (Board Reviews 11 and 12). There were no arrests in the 88th Precinct or neighboring 79th and 77th Precincts that correlated to this incident (Board Reviews 13, 14, and 15). There were no criminal summonses issued in the 88th Precinct on June 3, 2020 (Board Review 16). The Mass Arrest Processing Center documents did not list the locations of apprehension for the prisoners in Brooklyn, so none of the prisoners listed could be matched to this incident (Board Review 17). A request for a Threat, Resistance, and Injury Report for $87(2)(5) and $87(2)(5) was returned with negative requests (Board Review 18).

The investigation located a radio Event that correlated to this incident, $87(2)(8). The 81st Precinct Commanding Officer detailed over the radio the route of a protest that traveled through the 88th Precinct (Board Review 19). The radio runs noted Mobile Field Force #307, which was commanded by Captain Abdelhadi (Board Review 20). This Event made no mention of any specific conflict with protestors, anyone being taken into custody, or any officer obtaining medical attention for any protestor.

Concurrent Investigations

On June 28, 2021, Detective Mohamed Abdullah of the Internal Affairs Bureau confirmed that there was no concurrent NYPD investigation for this case (Board Review 21).

Ranking Officers and Officers Interviewed

Based on the radio runs, the ranking officer on scene at Lefferts Place was Deputy Inspector Glynn. He did not have any independent recollection of this incident (Board Review 22). He is not being pleaded as a subject officer because 687(2)(b) and 6887(2)(b) only described subject officers in blue shirts. Captain Abdelhadi, the supervisory officer for Mobile Field Force #307, was also interviewed. He recalled following a protest in Brooklyn North on the night of this incident but could not remember observing any of the actions alleged (Board Review 23).
