Case Summary

On October 9, 2018, § 87(2)(b) filed this complaint with the CCRB via mail. On August 29, 2018, at approximately 7:33 a.m., officers under the supervision of Sgt. Juan Moreno of the 115th Precinct entered and searched $27(2)(b) in Queens (Allegations A and B: Abuse of Authority, $87(2)(9). Police Officer Avidan Santiago of the 115th Precinct and an unidentified officer threatened 887(2)(b) with the use of force (Allegations C and D: Abuse of Authority, § 87(2)(g) ). PO Santiago and Sgt. Moreno sexually humiliated (Allegations E and F: Abuse of Authority, § 87(2)(g) allegedly used physical force against § 87(2)(b) (Allegation G: Force, § 87(2)(g) On August 29, 2018, at approximately 7:55 a.m., at the 115th Precinct stationhouse, PO Santiago, Police Officer Russell Lerch and Police Officer Michael Joseph of the 115th Precinct allegedly used physical force against § 87(2)(b) (Allegations H-J: Force, § 87(2)(g) Teara Wilson of the 115th Precinct spoke discourteously to 887(2)(b) (Allegation K: Discourtesy, § 87(2)(9) ). Sgt. Wilson sexually humiliated § 87(2)(b) (Allegation L: Abuse of Authority, § 87(2)(g) On August 29, 2018, at approximately 9:00 p.m., officers under the supervision of Lieutenant Javier Santos of the 115th Precinct entered and searched 887(2)(b) in Queens pursuant to Queens County Search Warrant #887(2)(b) (Allegations M and N: Abuse of Authority, § 87(2)(g) This case contains body-worn camera footage (Board Reviews 49-74). Findings and Recommendations Allegation (A) Abuse of Authority: Sergeant Juan Moreno entered 887(2)(b) in Queens. Allegation (B) Abuse of Authority: Sergeant Juan Moreno searched § 87(2)(b) Queens. It is undisputed that Department of Probation Branch Chief 887(2)(6) and Officer § 87(2)(b) of the New York City Department of Probation performed an unannounced home visit at in Queens to ensure that § 87(2)(b) did not own any animals, which she was prohibited from doing under the terms of her probation (Board Review 48). The visit uncovered numerous animals in §87(2)(b) s possession, and Branch Chief 887(2) placed a "10-13" radio call alleging that she had been physically attacked by $87(2)(b) response, numerous officers entered the location under the direction of the patrol supervisor Sgt. Juan Moreno and arrested 8 87(2)(b) A "10-13" code is utilized within the NYPD "when a police officer is in danger of physical harm by violence."

In People v. Doll, 21 N.Y.3d 665 (2013), The New York Court of Appeals held that "otherwise impermissible police conduct," such as a warrantless entry into a residence, is permissible when: (1) the police have reasonable grounds to believe that there is an emergency at hand and immediate need for their assistance for the protection of life or property and this belief must be grounded in empirical facts; (2) the search is not primarily motivated by an intent to arrest and seize evidence; and (3) there is some reasonable basis, approximating probable cause, to associate the emergency with the area or place to be searched (Board Review 58).

Per NY CLS CPL § 410.50, probation officers may arrest a person under their supervision without a warrant when they have reasonable cause to believe the person has violated a condition of the sentence (Board Review 43). To do so, a probation officer may be assisted by a police officer.

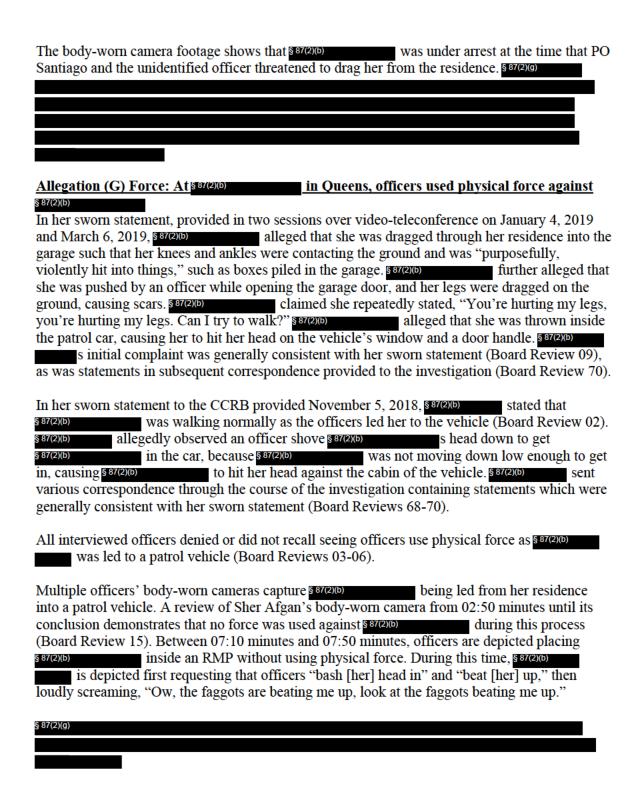

§ 87(2)(g)
Allegation (C) Abuse of Authority: At 887(2)(b) in Queens, Police Officer Avidan Santiago threatened $57(2)(0) with the use of force.
Allegation (D) Abuse of Authority: At $87(2)(b) in Queens, an officer threatened with the use of force.
Between approximately 01:55 minutes and 02:03 minutes in PO Shenique Rosario's BWC, PO Santiago is depicted stating, "You're gonna make us drag you upstairs?" to $87(2)(b) in response to her refusing to leave the residence (Board Review 20). At 03:40 minutes in PO Cesar Areco's BWC, an unidentified officer in plainclothes is depicted telling §87(2)(6) response to her requesting that the officer physically assault her, "I'm not gonna physically assault you. I'm gonna grab you and drag you upstairs" (Board Review 15). At 01:51 minutes in PO Rosario's footage, this same officer identifies himself as being from "Warrants" (Board Review

DO Cantingo was intermigwed at the CCDD on Cantember 25, 2010. During his intermigw. DO
PO Santiago was interviewed at the CCRB on September 25, 2019. During his interview, PO Santiago stated that he made this threat because $87(2)(b) would in fact have been dragged out of the location if she did not leave voluntarily, and because threatening to use force so has the potential to induce difficult subjects to cooperate (Board Review 04).

The Queens Warrant Squad movement log, event documentation and an AVL query did not indicate that any officer assigned to Warrants responded to this incident (Board Reviews 52-55, 61). Additionally, the MOS photo viewing terminal revealed no officers from Queens Warrant Squad who resemble the subject of this allegation. As such, the second of the two officers who threatened § 87(2)(b) with the use of force could not be identified.

Patrol Guide Section 221-01 states that officers may use force "when it is reasonable to ensure the safety of a member of the service or a third person, or otherwise protect life, or when it is reasonable to place a person in custody or to prevent escape from custody" (Board Review 56).

Allegation (H) Force: At the 115th Precinct stationhouse, Police Officer Russell Lerch used physical force against § 87(2)(b)
Allegation (I) Force: At the 115th Precinct stationhouse, Police Officer Michael Joseph used physical force against § 87(2)(b)
Allegation (J) Force: At the 115th Precinct stationhouse, Police Officer Avidan Santiago used physical force against § 87(2)(b)
In is undisputed that officers, while holding her by each arm, dragged a handcuffed $87(2)(6) alleged that upon arrival at the 115 th Precinct stationhouse, two officers grabbed her under both of her arms and told her to "walk on her knees", which she tried to do but found painful (Board Review 01). Additional officers then came and dragged her into the stationhouse, with eight officers holding each arm. [87(2)(b)] claimed that the officers did not allow to her to walk by not letting go of her arms or giving her a second to "gather herself." [87(2)(b)] also stated that she possibly could have walked, but that the officers did not give her time to catch her breath. At one point in her interview, [87(2)(b)] stated that officers dragged her, first by her ankles and then by her knees, into the stationhouse, while at a different point [87(2)(b)] stated that she first tried walking on her knees, but then "let the officers elevate" her because it was too painful, at which point her feet were making contact with the ground. Even though her feet were contacting the ground, [87(2)(b)] was not walking because the officers were moving too fast to allow her to walk. [87(2)(b)] received scars on her knees as a result of being transported into the stationhouse.

In his CCRB statement, PO Joseph stated that, as he walked ahead of PO Santiago and PO Lerch, he briefly turned around and observe $87(2)(b) making her body go limp, such that it was dead weight (Board Review 06). PO Joseph stated that PO Santiago and PO Lerch were holding her by each arm and "carrying her," and that he did not remember how $87(2)(b) was oriented. PO Joseph denied seeing $87(2)(b) so began to scream at some point in this process, but PO Joseph did not know why $87(2)(b) was screaming during this time.
In his CCRB statement, PO Lerch stated that, after $87(2)(b) dropped to the floor and refused to walk, he and PO Santiago grabbed her under each arm and dragged her into the stationhouse, with principally the tops and bottoms of her feet contacting the ground (Board Review 07). PO Lerch did not recall how far $87(2)(b) was elevated off the ground. PO Lerch denied intentionally dragging $87(2)(b) in such a manner that her knees contacted the ground, and did not recall her knees making contact with the ground during this process.
In his CCRB statement, PO Santiago stated that after \$37(2)(b) dropped her weight "like she was jumping into a pool" inside the stationhouse, he and two other officers, including PO Joseph, dragged \$37(2)(b) into the stationhouse while holding onto her arms (Board Review 04). The officers elevated \$37(2)(b) in the stationhouse while bit" off the ground as they did so, while \$37(2)(b) in the dragged her feet upon the ground because she refused to walk. PO Santiago did not recall any other part of \$37(2)(b) is body making contact with the ground. PO Santiago stated that he and the other officers did this because they had no other option to get her into the stationhouse. The officers proceeded to lead \$37(2)(b) in past the desk, because they were concerned that she might attempt to spit on a supervisor. The desk sergeant, Sgt. Wilson, became extremely upset, however, that the officers did not bring her to the desk. In their CCRB statements, Sgt. Wilson and Lt. Eric Callagy both initially denied having any recollection of \$87(2)(b) being brought into the stationhouse (Board Reviews 07 and 08). Because this incident happened at the end of their tour of duty, after they had removed their bodyworn cameras, PO Joseph, PO Lerch and PO Santiago were not wearing their assigned cameras during the incident. Relevant footage was captured to some extent by PO Shenique Rosario's body-worn camera, which was worn by PO Joseph during the process of transporting \$87(2)(b) to the stationhouse (Board Review 24). However, between 09:48 minutes and  $\overline{10.55}$ minutes in the footage, the camera is pointed away from \$87(2)(b) and the footage does not depict whether officers use physical force. Beginning at 06:42 minutes in the footage, officers are depicted requesting numerous times that cooperate and enter the stationhouse of her own accord. § 87(2)(b) responds by repeatedly requesting that officers drag her into the stationhouse and "beat [her] up." Around 08:29 minutes in the footage, \$87(2)(b) appears to completely drop her weight, at which time PO Santiago states, "You were walking fine two minutes ago." After numerous unsuccessful attempts to persuade \$37(2)(b) to walk, PO Santiago states, "Set her down, and we'll slide her. Cause she doesn't want to walk, we'll slide her. That's all. Stay like that. Then. That's the only way, we'll slide her." §87(2)(5) objects that the officers will injure her knees, and PO Lerch states, "Because you're not cooperating." At 09:51 minutes, an officer tells the officers bringing §87(2)(b) into the stationhouse to set her down. Beginning at 09:53 minutes, § 87(2)(b) can be heard screaming and asking the officers to stop. At 10:13, a screeching noise can be heard. At 10:17 minutes in the footage, Sgt. Wilson can be heard stating, "Officers, come to the desk right now. We are not catering to her bullshit, call the bus." Around the same time an unidentified voice can be heard stating, "Come on. Relax. Relax," followed by a statement that sounds like, "You don't need to do that." At 10:50 minutes in the footage, Sgt. Wilson can be heard stating, "You don't have to drag her around." After being shown the above-referenced footage, Sgt. Wilson ultimately provided testimony that she observed more than two officers, whose identities she could not recall, carrying §87(2)(b) by each arm into the stationhouse (Board Review 07). Sgt. Wilson did not recall what part of \$87(2)(b) was making contact with the ground as she was brought in. Sgt. Wilson stated that she told the officers to "stop catering to \$87(2)(b) solutions s] bullshit" and to call an ambulance because it is procedure is to bring volatile or emotionally disturbed prisoners to the hospital. After being presented with the above-referenced footage, Lieutenant Callagy maintained that he had no recollection of this incident (Board Review 08). In his CCRB interview, PO Lerch testified that the screeching noises heard in the above footage believed the officer depicted in body-worn camera footage telling him to put \$87(2)(b) down made this statement because it was procedure for \$87(2)(b) to be removed by \$87(2)(c) PO Lerch stated that he and PO Santiago did not do this because they determined that it was untenable to leave \$87(2)(b) in the hallway.

The pre-hospital care report prepared regarding this incident notes that upon EMS responding to the precinct stationhouse, [87(2)(6)] refused to go to the hospital to be evaluated (Board Review 62). The provider impression contained in the report is listed as "No Medical Problem [sic]," and the report does not note [887(2)(6)] as having incurred any injuries.
Patrol Guide Section 221-01 prohibits the use of force on handcuffed subjects "unless necessary to prevent injury, escape or to overcome active physical resistance or assault" (Board Review 56).
In Patrol Guide Section 221-02, passive resistance, as opposed to active resistance, is delineated as including a subject going limp when being taken into custody (Board Review 66).
Based on the testimony of the officers and the BWC footage, it is apparent that refused to walk into the stationhouse to process her arrest and that force was used While officers are entitled to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show what force was used, refused to use force to overcome resistance, the BWC footage does not show the footage does not show Allegation (K) Discourtesy: At the 115th Precinct stationhouse, Sergeant Teara Wilson spoke discourteously to $87(2)(b)  It is undisputed that Sgt. Wilson stated, as $87(2)(b) was being taken into the 115 th Precinct stationhouse, that they were not catering to $87(2)(b) s "bullshit." $87(2)(b) immediately responds, "Shut the fuck up bitch." These statements can be heard 10:30 minutes in PO Shenqiue Rosario's BWC (Board Review 24).
In her CCRB statement, Sgt. Wilson explained that she made this statement because she believed the officers were "entertaining" $87(2)(b) so behavior, and because she did not understand why the officers did not bring $87(2)(b) so to the desk given that she was arrested (Board Review 07). Sgt. Wilson stated that there was no specific reason why she used the word "bullshit."
The CCRB was unable to determine who made the statement regarding "put[ting] a chair under s ass."

Patrol Guide Section 203-09 instructs officers to treat civilians with courtesy and respect.

In Disciplinary Case No. 2017-17005, the Deputy Commissioner of Trials noted that it has consistently held that "profane remarks, made during stressful situations or while an officer is trying to get a chaotic situation under control, are not misconduct" (Board Review 59). The court found that an officer telling a bystander complaining of excessive force to "shut the fuck up" had committed misconduct because the situation was "not so chaotic that the duty of courteous and professional behavior should be overridden by the immediate need to maintain order."

Although Sgt. Wilson was speaking to officers when "bullshit," it was said in $87(2)(0)	describing $87(2)(b) s actions as the and was about her. $87(2)(g)

At 10:57 minutes in the footage filmed by PO Joseph using PO Rosario's body-worn camera, is depicted being placed in a chair in the 115th Precinct stationhouse (Board Review 24). The embedded timecode at this point in the footage indicates that it is 7:57 a.m. As discussed in the above section, Sgt. Wilson is depicted contemporaneously instructing officers to call § 87(2) At 01:45 minutes in PO Olujimi Ogundiran's body-worn camera footage, EMS is depicted arriving on scene (Board Review 25). The embedded timecode at this point indicates that it is 8:06 a.m. A discussion follows during which § 87(2)(b) makes conflicting statements to EMTs about whether she wants to go to the hospital. During this time the EMTs cover the lower s body with a blanket, § 87(2)(b) ultimately refuses to go the hospital and the EMTs leave at 30:34 minutes in the footage. Prior to this point, at 27:49 minutes in the footage, Sgt. Wilson is depicted asking § 87(2)(6) whether she would like a shirt, to responds, "I don't know, I'm bleeding all over myself" and complains that she was not allowed to put clothes on. At 31:45 minutes in the footage, a female officer is depicted telling $87(2)(b) that she is going to take her to another room and give her clothes and "papers" so that she can clean up, and the body-worn camera footage appears to terminate immediately prior to this occurring. PO Santiago testified in his CCRB interview that $87(2)(b) s dress fully covered her breasts, genitalia and buttocks (Board Review 04). PO Santiago had no recollection of $87(2)(b) requesting to change. PO Santiago stated that, typically, if officers are arresting an individual who is naked, officers will wait until EMS arrives and provides something to cover the individual before removing them. If an arrestee's "private areas" are not exposed, however, PO Santiago stated that officers are "not really concerned" if an arrestee is wearing specific clothing they would prefer to have on. PO Santiago stated that this was a common-sense understanding, and that he was not aware of any Patrol Guide procedure or other literature concerning this point. The other officers interviewed in the course of the investigation provided testimony which was generally consistent with PO Santiago in this respect (Board Review 03-08). In his CCRB testimony, Sgt. Moreno affirmed that § 37(2)(5) was arrested while wearing a garment that did not fully cover her breasts, and that he personally saw her breasts during her arrest (Board Review 03). Sgt. Moreno was unable to specify to what extent § 87(2)(b) breasts were exposed, whether her buttocks or genitalia were exposed at any point, or whether her state of dress presented an issue with regard to NYPD protocol. In her CCRB testimony, Sgt. Wilson stated that § 87(2)(b) s physical movements to resist the officers as they brought her into the stationhouse, in conjunction with the fact that her garment "already [didn't] offer that amount of coverage [sic]," caused her intimate areas to become exposed to an extent that she considered it an issue (Board Review 07). Sgt. Wilson testified that she lodged § 87(2)(b) apart from other prisoners so that she would have privacy, instructed an officer to give $87(2)(6) a Mets shirt, and personally paid for Page 9 officers to buy $87(2)(b) slippers. Sgt. Wilson further provided $87(2)(b) with sanitary pads, which she had purchased for her own personal use.

Sgt. Moreno and Sgt. Wilson have been pleaded as the subject of allegations addressed in this section because they were the supervisors on the scene of $87(2)(0) s arrest and at the $115 th Precinct stationhouse, respectively. PO Santiago has additionally been pleaded as a subject because he is depicted on BWC denying $87(2)(0) the opportunity to change into different clothing.
Patrol Guide Procedure 200-02 states that NYPD employees are to maintain a higher standard of integrity than is generally expected of others in their mission of protecting lives through impartial enforcement of the law and through valuing human life and the dignity of every person (Board Review 71).
Patrol Guide Procedure 203-10 prohibits officers from engaging in behavior prejudicial to the good order or discipline of the Department (Board Review 73).
Patrol Guide Procedure 208-02 states: "Desk officers will be held strictly accountable for prisoners while in the command" (Board Review 72).
At issue here is whether 887(2)(b) was exposed to actual or probable ridicule or embarrassment relating to her sexual organs or sexual activity.
The investigation determined that $87(2)(0) was arrested wearing a nightgown $87(2)(0) and that she was denied the opportunity to change despite requesting to do so. $87(2)(0) $87(2)(0) s private areas became exposed at more than one point during her arrest. She was also not afforded the opportunity to use feminine hygiene products, despite being visibly menstruating during the incident. $87(2)(0)
At the 115 th Precinct stationhouse, $87(2)(b) was handcuffed to a chair in a public area of the precinct. $87(2)(g) While it appears that $87(2)(b) was provided with clothing and sanitary pads after it was determined that she was not going to be removed, $87(2)(b) was left in an inadequately clothed state for over a half hour while handcuffed to a chair under the custody of Sgt. Wilson.
