Review 23). The march went to the vicinity of Atlantic Avenue and Smith Street, where a line of officers carrying bicycles were already positioned in the street ahead of the protesters. The protesters stopped and yelled at the officers. S*7(2)(6) walked through the line of officers and turned around to see if anyone followed him. While standing on the sidewalk, S*7(2)(6) observed a group of protesters standing further up the street. A group of 12-14 officers (described as a mix of white, black, and Hispanic men dressed in navy uniforms), pushed the protesters with their hands, bicycles, and batons. Captain Delgado, who S*7(2)(6) recognized from other protests he had attended, was ordering officers, "Get your hands dirty. Get this one. This one over here." Captain Delgado was cursing and said "fucking," repeatedly, however S*7(2)(6) could not clearly hear what exactly Captain Delgado said. S*7(2)(6) knew some of the individuals in the group who were pushed, but he was unable to provide their names or contact information during his CCRB interview, and he was unresponsive to subsequent contact attempts for this info (See IAs for contact attempts). §87(2)(b) did not know if any of the individuals in the group who were pushed were arrested or summonsed.

The 84th Precinct arrest index revealed that there were 26 arrests related to the protest, however all of them were sealed and could not be accessed by the investigation to obtain additional information regarding other protesters present (Board Review 24). NYPD records related to the alleged victims could not be requested as they were unidentified to the investigation.

Press articles related to the protest revealed that protesters marched through downtown Brooklyn in response to the police-involved shooting and killing of Walter Wallace Jr., in Philadelphia. Protesters became volent and broke storefront windows, lit fires, and vandalized buildings and vehicles throughout the area (Board Review 18-22).

provided video he recorded with a GoPro camera he had affixed to his chest during this incident (Board Review 16). Starting at the 01:30 minute mark of the media player timestamp (visible at the bottom of the screen), standing on the sidewalk in front of a few officers holding bicycles, while he records with his cell phone. At 01:52, says, "They're fucking them up in the corner." Numerous officers and protesters are further up the street, but the video does not capture whether any officer uses any force against any of the protesters. At 02:25, Captain Ramos approaches says, and the video does not capture anything else that happens to the protesters further up the street. says did not provide the video he recorded on his cell phone to the investigation, and he was unresponsive to subsequent contact attempts for this evidence (See IAs for contact attempts).

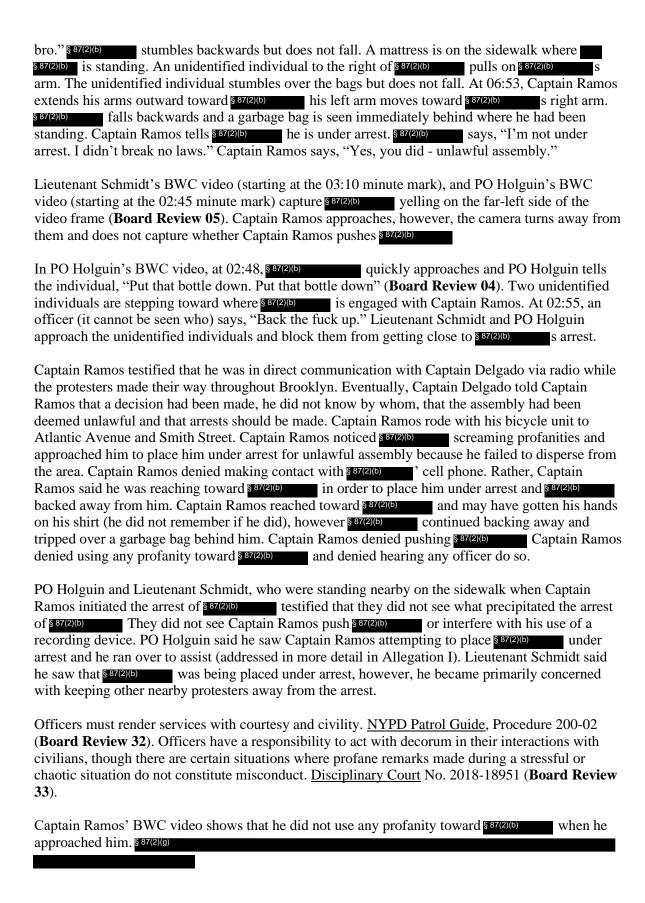

A request to the NYPD Technical Assistance Response Unit (TARU) for video footage returned negative results (Board Review 43).

BWC video from Lt. Schmidt's BWC camera, starting at the 00:55 minute mark of the media player timestamp (visible at the bottom of the screen), shows Captain Delgado (the only officer captured wearing a white shirt), walking in the direction of the crowd of protesters described by (Board Review 05). At 01:11, two officers dressed in neon green uniforms and holding bicycles are standing in front of a crowd on the sidewalk. Officers are heard saying "move back." At 01:26, officers pull (Form the crowd toward the street. At 01:29, an officer on the left side of the video appears to push a protester with his hands and says, "Move back." At 01:33, an officer pushes his bicycle toward protesters in front of him. At 01:53, Lieutenant Schmidt turns his back away from that side of the street toward where (Society) is standing. A request for video from Captain Delgado's BWC returned negative results (Board Review 25). The BWC footage received by the investigation did not capture the officers involved in the actions described by and did not assist with officer identification.

The officers interviewed, Captain Ramos (Board Review 26), PO Holguin (Board Review 27), PO Lopez (Board Review 28), PO Feliciano (Board Review 29), and Lieutenant Schmidt (Board Review 30), consistently testified that they were working as part of the SRG bicycle unit and responded to the area due to a large protest in downtown Brooklyn. All the officers denied pushing any protesters with their hands, batons, or bicycles, and they did not remember seeing any other officer do any of these things. They were unable to identify the officers captured in the relevant section of Lt Schmidt's BWC video.

The NYPD's Department Advocate's office confirmed that Captain Delgado was on terminal leave as of July 30, 2021, set to retire from the NYPD (Board Review 31). Therefore, he was not interviewed.

officer says, "Give me your hands." At 07:34, the camera turns upward. At 07:56, Captain Ramos turns away from the arrest scene.

The same portion of this incident is captured in PO Holguin's BWC video, beginning at the 03:00 minute mark (Board Review 04), and PO Feliciano's BWC video, beginning at the 03:12 minute mark (Board Review 03). The relevant sections of the videos did not provide any additional clarity as to whether any officer punched [S87(2)(b)] or pulled his hair.

PO Lopez' BWC video captures his involvement in the arrest starting at the 05:20 minute mark (Board Review 02). Starting at 05:25, an officer standing directly in front of PO Lopez, identified via investigation as PO Holguin, raises and lowers his right arm in quick succession in the direction of $87(2)(6) who is positioned underneath him.

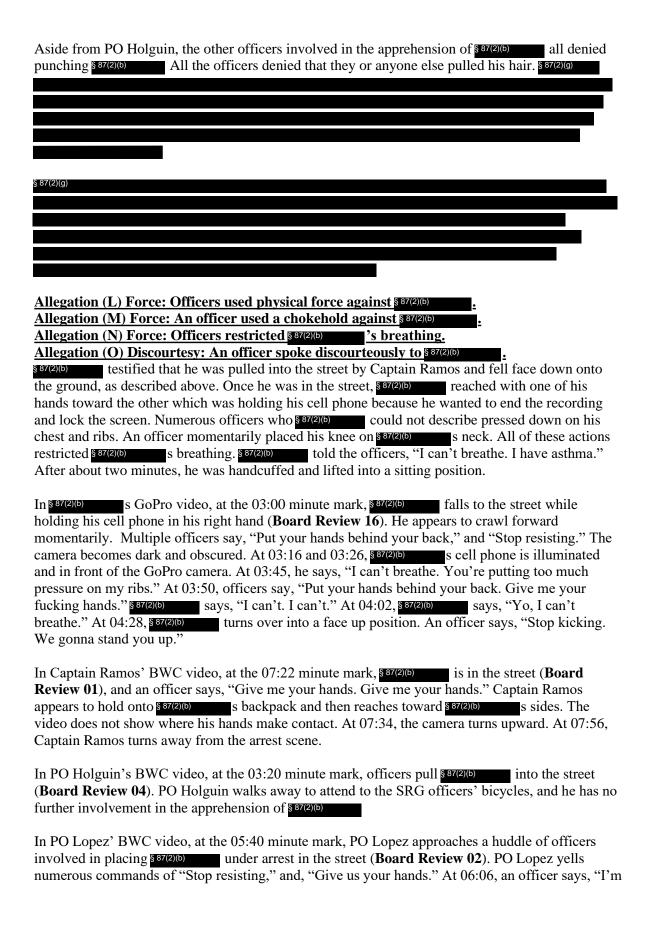

Captain Ramos testified that he and other officers attempted to place $\frac{87(2)(b)}{87(2)(b)}$ s arms behind his back in order to place him in handcuffs, but $\frac{87(2)(b)}{87(2)(b)}$ resisted by pulling his arms in front of him. Aside from trying to pull his arms behind his back, Captain Ramos did not use any other force against $\frac{87(2)(b)}{87(2)(b)}$ he directed the officers to pull $\frac{87(2)(b)}{87(2)(b)}$ into the street because due to $\frac{87(2)(b)}{87(2)(b)}$ is resistance and the tight quarters created by nearby parked cars and other garbage and debris that was nearby, $\frac{87(2)(b)}{87(2)(b)}$ would be more quickly and safely placed into custody in the street. Captain Ramos denied punching $\frac{87(2)(b)}{87(2)(b)}$ or pulling his hair, and he denied seeing any officer do either of those things.

PO Holguin testified that he noticed Captain Ramos and other officers attempting to place under arrest. PO Holguin approached to assist the other officers. Tested by holding onto a small fence that was next to him with one hand. Tested by so other arm was loose and in Captain Ramos' grasp, but $87(2)(b) was pulling his arm away from Captain Ramos. Tested to comply with verbal orders to let go of the gate and to give the officers his hands. PO Holguin punched $87(2)(b) s wrist a few times with his right hand three to four times in order to get him to release his grip of the fence. PO Holguin utilized hand strikes because $87(2)(b) appeared to have a tight grip on the gate and was not complying with verbal orders to let go of the gate. PO Holguin denied punching $87(2)(b) anywhere else and did not see any other officer do so. Other officers pulled $87(2)(b) into the street.

PO Feliciano and PO Lopez testified that they observed a struggle between officers and $87(2)(b) and approached to assist. They consistently described that $87(2)(b) resisted by tensing his arms which prevented officers from pulling them behind his back. PO Lopez did not remember what specific actions he took when he went to assist. PO Feliciano said he tried to hold $87(2)(b) s arm so it could be pulled behind his back.

grabbing his hands, but I can't get it up." At 06:25, an officer says, "Give me your fucking hand then." At 07:00, PO Lopez stands up and walks away.

In PO Feliciano's BWC video, at the 03:30 minute mark, $87(2)(5) goes to the ground in the street (Board Review 03). At 03:35, PO Feliciano reaches for $87(2)(6) s right hand. The camera becomes obscured. At 04:19, PO Feliciano has a hand on an unknown part of §87(2)(b) size is jacket. At 04:51, PO Feliciano stands up and $87(2)(6) is on the ground on his side. Captain Ramos, PO Lopez, and PO Feliciano were identified as officers involved in the struggle to handcuff $87(2)(b) in the street. They all denied pressing down on $87(2)(b) s chest or ribs, denied placing a knee on his neck, denied taking any action which would have restricted his breathing, and all the officers denied seeing any other officer do any of these things. The officers all consistently described that $87(2)(b) resisted once he was on the ground by pulling his arms underneath his body which prevented them from handcuffing him. The officers' use of force was limited to pulling $37(2)(b) s arms out from underneath his body in order to handcuff him. The officers did not remember using any profanity toward $87(2)(6) and did not know who the officer was who is captured using profanity in the BWC video. Officers must render services with courtesy and civility. NYPD Patrol Guide, Procedure 200-02 (Board Review 32). Officers have a responsibility to act with decorum in their interactions with civilians, though there are certain situations where profane remarks made during a stressful or chaotic situation do not constitute misconduct. Disciplinary Court No. 2018-18951 (Board Review 33). Allegation (P) Force: Lieutenant David Vasquez used physical force against 387(2)(5) testified that he was lifted into a standing position by unidentified officers. §37(2)(b) s mask came off during the struggle. He told the officers he wanted his mask. An officer said, "Okay," but his mask was not returned to him. The officers tried walking $37(2)(b) up the street toward a police van but § 87(2)(b) refused to walk and continued telling the officers he wanted his mask. An officer, identified via investigation as Lieutenant Vasquez, approached $87(2)(b) and pushed him on his chest with both hands $87(2)(b) walked backwards as the other two officers walked him to the van) for about 50 feet until $87(2)(6) was at a line of prisoners. He did not report any injury in connection with Lieutenant Vasquez pushing him.

In Lieutenant Vasquez's BWC video, at the 10:43 minute mark of the media player timestamp (visible on the bottom of the screen), $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ is heard yelling that he wants his mask (Board Review 12). Two officers walk by Lieutenant Vasquez and $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ and Lieutenant Vasquez walk alongside them. Lieutenant Vasquez tells $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ "Relax. Relax." At 10:57, in response to multiple requests for a mask, Lieutenant Vasquez tells $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ "We'll give you one." $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ says, "It's in his hands. I want it right now. Nah, nah, nah, nah, nah." The pace of the officers moving forward with $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ appears to slow and $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ briefly pulls his body forward, in the opposite direction the officers are escorting him. Lieutenant Vasquez approaches $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ with his arms outstretched toward him. Lieutenant Vasquez, $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ and the two officers continue walking forward. Lieutenant Vasquez tells $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ "We're going to put a mask on you, I promise." $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ says, "No, I don't want that shit. I want that," and he makes other statements about wanting his mask. $\frac{87(2)(b)}{2}$ is brought to a line of prisoners.
The same portion of the incident is captured in $87(2)(b) s GoPro video starting at the 07:40 minute mark (Board Review 16). At 08:15, Lieutenant Vasquez outstretches his arms toward and they continue walking toward the prisoner van.

The 84 th Precinct Arrest Index and Summons log did not reveal any individuals with a name approximating "Joy" (Board Review 24, 34). Given that as previously noted, the individual arrest reports were all sealed, they could not be accessed by the investigation to review identifying information or details about the circumstances of the arrest.
The BWC video received by the investigation and $87(2)(b) s GoPro video did not capture any officer punching any female protester. At the 10:30 minute mark of $87(2)(b) s GoPro video, an unidentified female prisoner standing in front of $87(2)(b) in the line of prisoners says, "He punched me in my face. Twice. Ericsson" (Board Review 16).
The roll calls from the five borough SRG commands did not reveal any officer with a name approximating Ericcson who was working on the incident date (Board Review 44-48). A request to Patrol Borough Brooklyn North and Patrol Borough Brooklyn South returned negative results for any detail rosters related to the protest (Board Review 49-50).
